Catskill Protection Plan Going Through Legislature

ALBANY

A bill introduced by Assemblyman H. Clark Bell, R-Ulster, which would create a temporary state commission to make a $25,000 plus study of the economic, recreational cultural potential of the Catskills is now in the hands of the Assembly.

United Press International reported the measure, co-sponsored by Sen. Warren M. Anderson, cleared the Senate Wednesday.

The Binghamton Republican said the proposed commission would be similar to one which recently completed a study of the Adirondacks.

According to the Woodstock assemblyman, the bill calls for a thorough evaluation of the Catskills in terms of the conservation and devolpment of its natural resources; the strengthening of its economy; the maintenance and advancement of its recreational facilities; the feasibility of expanded use of water supply reservoirs; enhancement of its cultural pursuits and the development of both public and private lands consistent with the long-range planning for the region.

The proposed legislation would create a nine-member commission — three members each selected by the governor, senate majority leader and assembly speaker — with at least two appointees of each leader residing in the Catskill region. The region is defined in the bill as an area either totally or partially within the counties of Ulster, Delaware, Sullivan, Greene, Schoharie, Chenango and Albany.

Assemblyman Bell said a temporary commission would be a super planning and zoning agency which would recommend some form of land use control.

Citing logging operations and land mining in the Catskill Park area, Bell said the broad general concept of the study has appeal and will receive full consideration.

Senator Anderson serves Broome, Delaware and Sullivan Counties.

Meanwhile, two major changes have been made in Governor Rockefeller's bill for a permanent commission to control the Adirondacks, but the amendments still do not satisfy north country lawmakers' objections to the proposals.

The major objection to the bill from the area has been that it gives a commission appointed by the governor strong powers over the Adirondack Forest Preserve. They could, in effect, overrule local zoning and impose their own standards on both public and private land within the blue line.

Two amendments reportedly agreed upon Wednesday by Rockefeller have modified the plan somewhat.

One would exempt privately owned plots of land of five acres or less from the control of the new commission.

The second would require that three of the four members of the commission not only live in the Adirondacks, but be year-round residents, as opposed to landholders who may only reside in the area during the summer.

"These are two major points that we have been holding out for and we are glad that we have apparently won our battle here," Assemblyman Glenn H. Harris, R-Canada Lake said. "But we are still concerned about other provisions in the bill."

"We would like to get a bill we can live with, but I don't think we can," he said.

Harris said his major objection was that the powers of the State Department of Environmental Conservation would be "usurped" by the new commission.

"This is a slap in the face to a department which has always had the best interests of the north country in mind," Harris said. "For years they have lived in this area and understood our feelings.

"I don't believe that any group of people appointed by the governor — even if three of the four are residents—will have the same knowledge and understanding that the department has had over the years."

70 YEARS APART — Brig. Gen. John Donaldson (right), has been charged with the murder of six Vietnamese civilians a few month after My Lai. He is special assistant to the 1st Army Chief of Staff at Ft. Meade. The last general charged with war crimes was Brig. Gen. Jacob H. Smith, (left), shown in the Philippines, who was court-martialed because of his order during the Philippine insurrection of 1901 that all persons above the age of 10 on the island of Samar should be killed as potential enemies and that the island should be turned into a "howling wilderness." One-Sided View, General's Reply To Viet Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first U.S. general accused of murdering civilians in South Vietnam says the charges against him are "based on a one-sided report."

Brig. Gen. John W. Donaldson, until recently a top planner for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said Wednesday the investigation conducted by the Army's Criminal Intelligence Division was not complete.

"Certain parts of this report and investigation have just now been made available to me and to my counsel," Donaldson said.

"I would like to say I have full faith in the United States Army. The Army has been my life and I have full confidence in the U.S. military judicial system," he said.

The 47-year-old West Point graduate is accused of murdering six Vietnamese civilians and assaulting two others.

South Vietnamese marines in a new drive below the demilitarized zone. Forty-eight Americans were killed last week by Red troops. Story on page 32.

The Army has disclosed few details of the case but Pentagon sources said an investigation was started in November after a helicopter pilot said the general took pot shots at Vietnamese civilians while flying over Quang Ngai Province during an operation in late 1968. Donaldson was commander of the 4th Infantry Brigade at the time of the alleged incidents.

The Army, in announcing the charges, used the term "alleged" in referring to the civilians. It is understood this phrasing was used because an issue in the case is whether they were enemy troops.

Also Wednesday, the Army said Lt. Col. William J. McCloskey has been charged with the death of two Vietnamese civilians in March 1969. The Army said the two cases are not related.

Both officers were members of the Americal Division, 11th Infantry Brigade, units of which were involved in the My Lai massacre. However, My Lai took place in March 1968, before either of the incidents said to have involved Donaldson and McCloskey.

Officials said Donaldson, also the first American general charged with a war crime since 1901, was advised in advance the charges would be announced and took the day off from his job as special assistant to the chief of staff for the 1st Army, headquartered at Ft. Meade, Md.

He spoke to newsmen briefly outside his home in suburban Virginia but refused to answer questions about the basis for the charges.

The charges against Donaldson and McCloskey now will be reviewed by Lt. Gen. Claire Hutchin, commanding general of the 1st Army. He will decide whether to carry the cases further and order a grand jury-type investigation.

Hutchin could dismiss the charges if he finds the evidence is not sufficient to order prosecution.

In a related development, Lt. Col. Anthony B. Herbert, who has brought dereliction of duty accusations against two other officers for allegedly covering up war crimes, told reporters he knew of several high-ranking Army officers who sought retirement after learning a brigadier general was under investigation.

Donaldson took over the 11th Brigade Oct. 4, 1968—more than six months after My Lai. McCloskey served as commander of the 3rd Battalion, 1st Infantry, of the brigade, from Nov. 19, 1968, until March 14, 1969.

The 11th Brigade commander at the time of My Lai, Col. Oran K. Henderson has been accused of covering up the My Lai incident. Preliminary hearings in his trial at Ft. Meade are in recess.

$5,000 City Garage Profit Projected

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON

The city of Kingston could stand to make more than $5,000 a year from the uptown parking garage on North Front Street if projections by American Garages Inc., a consulting firm specializing in parking garages, prove accurate.

The study on the $700,000 parking structure built by the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency and opened last December, was forwarded to Mayor Francis R. Koenig in early April and presented to the Common Council this week by the mayor for study. The study was commissioned by the urban renewal agency which also submitted recommendations to the consultant from the Uptown Businessmen's Association.

Under the proposal by American Garages, parking will cost 10 cents for the first hour up to three hours. The rate for four hours parking is recommended at 50 cents; for five hours, 75 cents; for five to eight hours, one dollar; for eight to 12 hours, $1.25 and from 12 to 24 hours, $1.50.

Special

The report notes that there are 360 spaces in the garage of which 255 are covered. There are 51 uncovered spaces on the North Front Street side of the garage and 54 open spaces on the surface parking area off Clinton Avenue extension.

The report proposes a monthly parking fee of $8 for the rear surface lot with a $10 fee for monthly parking under cover. Twenty-four hour unlimited parking would cost $15 per month.

Overnight parking from 6 p.m. to 8 a.m. would cost 50 cents, the same cost for part time employe day rate.

It is also suggested that validation stamps be issued by Uptown Merchants, worth 10 cents each (or an hour's parking.) The report states that the merchants will pay the cost of printing of parking tickets and validation stamps.

The report recommends that the garage be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Thursday and on Saturday and be open an additional four hours on Friday night. The garage would be closed on Sundays and store holidays.

The report estimates that the bulk of revenues will come from "transient parking," cars in the lots for up to four hours at one time. Under transient parking, the report estimates total yearly revenues of $30,585 while figuring $4,980 for monthly parking for a total of $35,565 in revenues.

Total expenses add up to $30,437 according to the report, with the bulk of that coming

City School District Is Hiring, Sharp Contrast to Some Others

By JON POWERS

KINGSTON

With fiscal crises in schools throughout the state taking its toll of teachers and educational services, the Kingston City Schools Consolidated finds itself in a unique — some would say enviable — position.

With the opening of a new school in Rifton in September, the local school district this year will be hiring "between 15 and 20" new professional staff members, most of them teachers, acording to Superintendent Louis A. Salzmann.

While that figure is not staggering — it represents less than two per cent of the total hired personnel in the district — it assumes more significant proportions in the wake of announcements from the Poughkeepsie school system that it will have to fire 100 staff members in order to make financial ends meet.

It may not be fair to compare the two school systems. While geographically close, they're worlds apart in terms of size and financial volume.

For instance, Kingston's budget next year will exceed $16 million, more than twice that of Poughkeepsie. But, at the same time, Poughkeepsie's tax rate is expected to increase $3.60, about 30 times more than here.

The difference, says Salzmann, is consolidation, and "it all comes down to assessed valuation." The sprawling Kingston district encompasses parts of some half dozen townships in the county, spreading higher tax payments over a greater number of homes and businesses. The Poughkeepsie district, restricted by city limits, is afforded no such luxury.

Both Salzmann and Thomas Reynolds, president of the City Consolidated Scchool Board of Education, also took time out to respond to "fiscal irresponsibility" and "mismanagement" charges leveled during the recent School Board campaign in explaining Kingston's financial stability.

"We're prudent in the management of our resources," said Salzmann, "we have room to spare in our tax limit; we're cutting our increases but not our total budget."

"We have problems, too," said Reynolds, "but we exercise the best fiscal managment we can."

The pros and cons of local budget figures notwithstanding, school officials obviously take some pleasure in announcing more hirings while other large districts are curtailing expenses. The opening of the Rifton school will specifically create at least 13 new teaching jobs, perhaps some specialized part-time teaching jobs and a new administrative post. The school will accommodate some 325-350 students in grades 1-6.

New professional personnel is nothing new for Kingston. Each year, between 100-150 new staffers are hired, but they're just a part of the turnover treadmill. The creation of 15-20 new jobs is new, and significant, especially in these times of the dollar blight.

It appears that Kingston, at least for the time being, will avoid the serious educational disasters that are afflicting schools elsewhere. But officials are not holding out any promises for the future. Commented Reynolds, "The overcrowded conditions in the high school are becoming serious, and will necessitate drastic changes. What our money situation will be then is only problematical."

Wide Manhunt Underway For Walden Murder Suspect

By WALTER S. CLARK

WALDEN

A 35-year-old man believed to be armed was the object of an intensive manhunt today throughout the eastern section of the country in connection with the shooting murder of his estranged pretty 25 - year - old girl friend.

State Police sent out all-points bulletins to police agencies seeking the apprehension of Frederick Perna, a former automobile body shop operator, who authorities said is wanted for the fatal shooting of Mrs. Barbara Ann Carr, a waitress, whose lifeless body was found in a pool of blood at her home at 138 Wait Street in this Orange County Village on Wednesday.

State Police Captain F. G. Dirschka, head of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation in Middletown, said the woman had been shot "at least once" through the head with a small caliber weapon, which authorities declined to describe pending the capture of the suspect.

Dirschka reported that Perna is believed to have the victim's car a 1963 Chrysler which has plates NW-1595. The official said authorities have impounded the much-sought man's car.

Orange County Coroner Edward Pekar said the woman had been murdered in her red frame home where Perna had resided for some time before the couple separated.

Authorities reported the waitress apparently had been shot sometime Tuesday night although her body was not discovered until yesterday morning by her employer, Vincent Candito, operator of the Walden Valley Diner, who went to her home after the woman failed to report for work.

Candito looked through a window of the residence and saw the body on the floor. He summoned local police and Patrolman Norman Owen forced a door to enter the house. State Police officials were called in to assist in the probe.

Complete details of the murder are being withheld by investigators until Perna is apprehended, as police said disclosure of vital evidence could jeopardize the case.

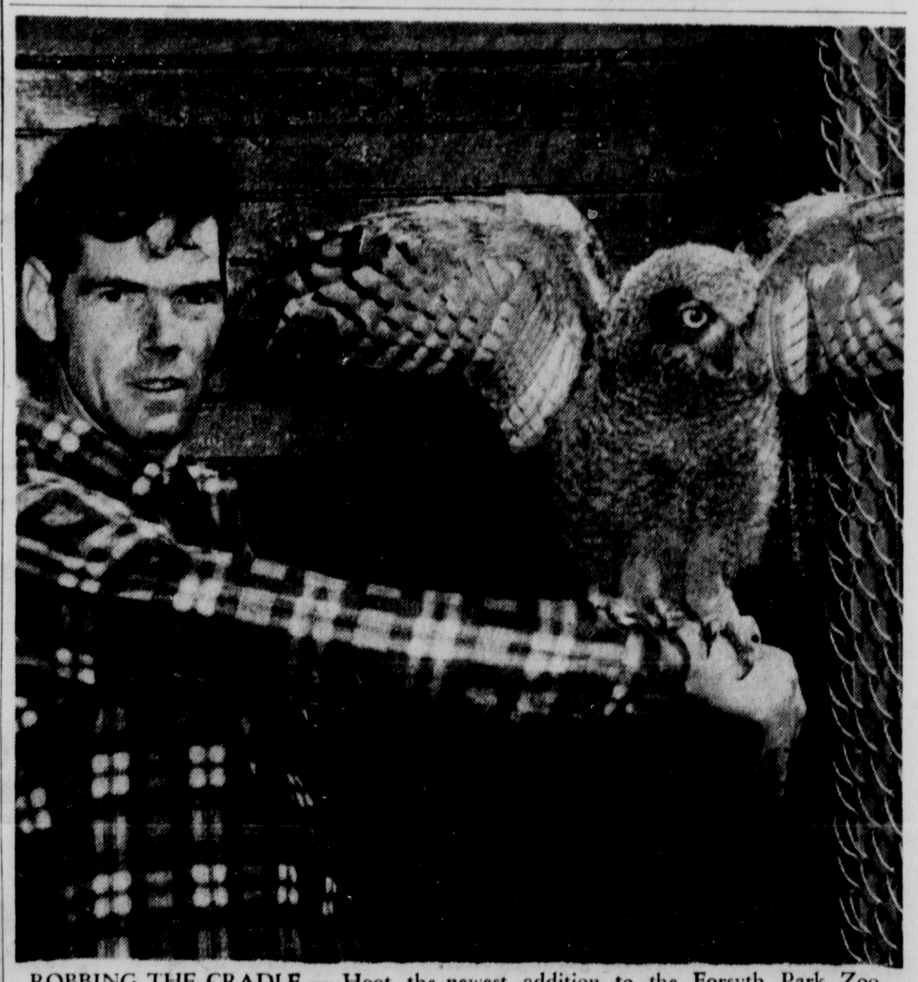

Mrs. Carr had lived with her 3-year-old son in the house for about 18 months. A neighbor said that Perna had resided with the woman until the couple separated about two or three months ago and since then they had been together occasionally.

Candito told police that because Perna allegedly had tried to break into Mrs. Carr's home Monday night, she bought sheets of plywood the following day to nail over the windows to prevent entry by the man.

The investigative team in charge of the case includes BCI and uniformed state police and Edwin Sutherland, Walden chief of police.

ROBBING THE CRADLE — Hoot, the newest addition to the Forsyth Park Zoo, makes a rare daylight appearance comfortably perched on the arm of Zookeeper Robert Horvers. Destiny brought these two together about a month ago, with Hoot apparently preferring the comforts of captivity to the rigors of life in the wilds. Horvers was walking in a wooded area along Ulster Landing Road when young Hoot, then featherless and unable to fly, toppled out of his nest and fell at the zookeeper's feet. Horvers tried unsuccessfully to scale the tree and replace the owl in its nest, and then took it home for the night and brought it to the zoo the next day. Although Hoot is the first owl to register at the Forsyth Zoo, Horvers said he wanted to "keep him wild and then turn him loose." But the young owl wanted no part of that bargain. Now almost completely tame, Hoot shows no desire to part with this life of leisure. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Two Legislature Sessions

UCCC Bids Part of the Agenda

KINGSTON — Ulster County Legislature, meeting today at 4 p.m. and again at 8 p.m. will act on the acceptance of bids totaling $52,357.48 for equipment for Ulster County Community College.

On recommendation of the board of trustees, the Legislature will be asked to approve the following low bids:

Book Store Equipment, Saginaw, Mich., $9,565; stage equipment, I. Weiss, New York City, $19,950; art room cabinets, John Barra, Catskill, $9,840; library furniture, Bro-Dart Inc., Montgomery, Pa., $5,191.25; maintenance equipment, $540, E. A. Morse Inc., Middletown; nursing laboratory equipment, Dura Lab Equipment Corp., Brooklyn, $2,997.

Physical science laboratory equipment totals $4,274.23 with $1,617 bid by Cambasco Scientific Company, Boston, Mass.; $974 by Sargent, Welch Scientific, Springfield, N. J.; $114, La Paine Scientific Company, Norwood, N. J.; $203.82, Science Kit Inc., Tonawanda; $197.45, Ealing Corp., Cambridge, Mass., and $1,167.86, Wards Natural Scientific, Rochester.

The resolutions calling for acceptance of the bids were submitted by Brian White (R-Dist. 9), chairman of the Community College Committee and Legislators James Palen (R-Dist. 9), Philip Davis (R-Dist. 11), Glenn Debrosky, (R-Dist. 7), Louis Bevier (R-Dist. 8), Roger Mabie, (D-Dist. 7), William Edelmuth (D-City), and Richard Thornton (D-Dist. 1).

The county's recreational policy was scheduled for discussion during the afternoon session with Planning Director Herbert Hekler explaining the four things the county has done to implement the plan.

Hekler will inform the legislators that the county planners have made an analysis of the demand for different recreational facilities and have made an assessment of its regional position in terms of various sports offered here and in the New York Metropolitan region as a whole.

The planners also made an inventory of all recreational facilities available to the public in Ulster County including parks and school sites and private facilities open to the public such as the golf courses at the Capri and Nevele, which are available for a fee.

The policy section of the recreational plan first points out the deficiences in recreational facilities and standards and guidelines are drawn concerning how each level of government fits into the recreation picture as a whole.

The policy plan is also concerned with the responsibilities of the state and federal governments, Hekler feels.

It's Finally Official

Albany Capital Designation

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)— The city of Albany now officially is the state capital, even though it has held that position in practice for the last 174 years.

Governor Rockefeller signed without comment Wednesday a one - sentence bill which says "The capital city of the state of New York is hereby designated to be the city of Albany."

New York's Revolutionary War capital Kingston, and the state government moved to Albany in 1797. Assemblyman Charles Henderson said his research showed the only official tie the city had to state government was a resolution of May 14, 1878, naming the present gray Victorian domeless building as the state Capitol.

"It may sound silly, but this is a serious matter which should be cleared up and put into the record correctly before court challenges," Henderson said.

Henderson, R-Hornell, is a 16-year veteran of the legislature and an amateur historian. He said the bill officially designating Albany the capital was "a logical piece of legislation which has apparently been overlooked"

He noted that the city was becoming increasingly occupied by state government buildings, including the state office campus and the $1 billion South Mall construction site.

Completing First Week

Area Guardsmen in Training

CAMP DRUM — National Guardsmen from Kingston, Poughkeepsie and Newburgh have neared the completion of their first week of annual training here.

The men, members of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, 50th Armored Division Brigade, are preparing for an Army training test which will be administered later in the week.

Some 400 New York Army National Guardsmen representing the three batteries arrived at Camp Drum Saturday for their two weeks of training.

A truck convoy brought the Guardsmen here after an eight hour trip. Upon arrival, the batteries moved directly to the field where temporary living quarters were built. Training began on Sunday.

Ideal weather conditions greeted the men and made construction of tents and other field essentials a relatively simple matter. Although trained to perform under all weather conditions, sunny skies and comfortable temperatures have prevailed to date.

Training emphasis during the two-week tour will be on preparing the units for an Army firing battery test. Battery A from Poughkeepsie, and B and C from Newburgh are self-propelled howitzer units. They receive support from Headquarters and Service batteries from Kingston.

The troops broke camp today and motored to barracks on the main post where maintenance of equipment, weapons and vehicles will take place.

On Monday, the units return to the field where they will complete their training.

The batteries return to home base on June 12.

New York 31st State to Ratify the 18 Vote

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York has become the 31st state in the nation to go on record for 18 - year - old voting. If seven more states follow suit, about a million young New Yorkers will become eligible to vote in next November's elections.

New York's youth also may find other major changes will be made as the result of Wednesday's action by the legislature ratifying the proposed U.S. Constitutional Amendment for 18 - year-old voting.

The Republican-ruled legislature is committed to voting on revisions in present law that would:

— Permit males to marry without their parents' consent at the age of 18, instead of 21. Females already can do so at age 18.

— Lower the age at which New Yorkers may enter into legal contracts, such as contracting debt, from 21 to 18.

—Allow persons as young as 18 to obtain emergency medical treatment, including surgical operations, on their own authority. Now they must obtain consent of their parents or a guardian if they are under 21.

—Relieve fathers of legal liability for supporting offspring when they reach age 18, instead of 21.

Before the Senate voted to ratify the constitutional amendment, Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges told the house that the additional proposals would be brought to a vote before the 1971 legislative session ends.

Brydges' brief remarks were followed by a 51-2 vote in favor of the ratification resolution. Shortly after, the Assembly added its endorsement of the resolution, 137-8.

The legislature's action thus made New York the 31st state to endorse the proposed U.S. constitutional amendment. Approval by three quarters of the 50 states is needed—that is, 38 states—to write the amendment into the Constitution.

It is generally assumed that the 38-state level will be reached by early summer, thus lowering the voting age nationally from 21 to 18 in time for the November elections.

In New York, estimates are that a million young people will become eligible to vote for the first time. They would join an established electorate of their elders numbering nearly eight million.

The legislature's approval had been presumed, since both houses voted overwhelmingly in January to place a similar amendment to the State Constitution on the November ballot. In that manner, if the electorate approved, New York would have lowered the voting age on its own.

Brydges announced before Wednesday's vote, however, that the state question would be withdrawn, on the assumpion that enough states would ratify the federal proposal to put it into effect nationally.

There was little discussion in the Senate and none in the Assembly on the merits of the federal amendment. Republicans cast all of the dissenting votes in the two houses.

In the Senate, Richard E. Schermerhorn of Cornwall said he would have voted for the resolution if the bills regarding changes in the age of legal majority had been presented first. Otherwise—no.

The other Senate dissenters, Martin J. Knorr of Queens, said he was voting no because he believed the question of lowering the voting age should be left to the electorate to decide.

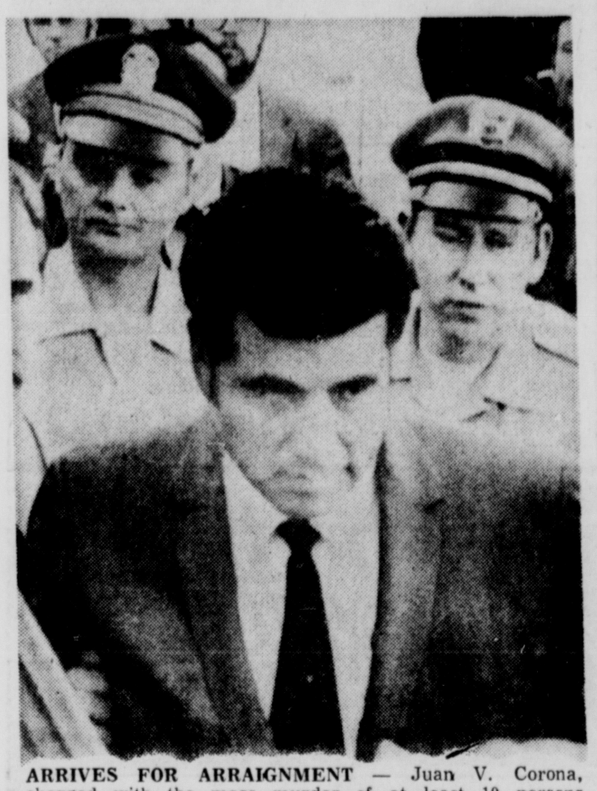

Knorr also professed surprise that his name was included among the all-Republican roster of sponsors listed on the resolu[illegible] now how it go there," he said.

[illegible] members o[illegible] the Assembly who voted "no" offered an explanation of his vote. Most are conservative - minded Republicans who were known to harbor doubts about the wisdom of the change.

The Assembly dissenters were:

John T. Flack and Rosemary Gunning, both from Queens; Charles A. Jerabek of Bay Shore, Suffolk County; Thomas Murphy, Syracuse; Ronald H. Tills, Hamburg, Erie County; Emeel S. Betros, Poughkeepsie; Frank A. Carroll, Rochester; and Edward F. Crawford, Oswego.

The governor's signature is not required on the ratification resolution. But, even if it had been, there would be no problem. Gov. Rockefeller had urged the legislature many times to make 18-year-old voting possible.

ARRIVES FOR ARRAIGNMENT — Juan V. Corona, charged with the mass murder of at least 10 persons found buried in orchards near Yuba City, Calif., is surrounded by police and newsmen as he arrives for his arraignment at Sutter County Courthouse. His court-appointed attorney, Roy van den Heuvel, formally entered an innocent plea and observed that deputies may have arrested the wrong man. June 16 was set for a preliminary hearing. A Spanish interpreter explained the charges to Corona, a Mexican national. Meanwhile, the search for more victims continued as technicians processed infrared aerial photos capable of detecting unusual soil disturbances. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Gotham Begins New Round On the Embattled Budget

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York City has begun a new round of discussions with the state on the city's embattled expense budget for next year but received no hope that the legislature will grant anywhere near as much taxing power as Mayor John V. Lindsay has requested.

City Budget Director Edward K. Hamilton flew here Wednesday and said he detected "an interesting new start' in renewed discussions with state fiscal officials but he added that nothing was said about increasing the size of the tax package.

The tax package, according to Gov. Rockefeller, is now about $450 million, subject to legislative approval, instead of the $892.4 million Lindsay asked for to bridge a $1.1 billion gap in his proposed $9.1 billion expense budget for 1971-72.

Hamilton's meeting at the Capitol was arranged during telephone calls from Wednesday morning from Lindsay to Rockefeller, Assembly Speaker Perry B. Duryea and Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges. More talks were scheduled for today.

Meanwhile, Rockefeller signed into law his own legislature-approved program that will eventually eliminate rent control from apartments in the state, 1.3 million of which are in New York City. The signing had been expected

In the Assembly, a bill to create an administrative tribunal within the New York City Housing and Development Administration to handle housing violations was returned to committee when a show of hands indicated the measure's certain defeats. The Lindsay Administration had supported the bill.

The arrival of Hamilton signaled a break in the city-state estrangement on discussions of New York City's fiscal problems but had little apparent effect on the positions of Rockefeller and the GOP legislative leaders.

The new, second-echelon talks were said to have produced no substantive changes in city or state views on the budget or the tax requests. Hamilton described the discussions as touching only on "the technical side."

He said he and state aides had found "considerable areas of disagreement" but when asked if the two - hour closed - door meeting could be described as a "take-it-or-leave-it session," he replied: "Not at all, not at all."

He declined emphatically to spell out what possible new taxes had been discussed during the meeting with State Budget Director Richard Dunham and financial experts from the Senate and Assembly staffs.

In New York City Wednesday night, Rockefeller iterated his belief that the tax package must be lower than Lindsay requested, saying, "There's a limit to what we can do with increased taxes without destroying the economy.'

Fun City a State — Some Strong Support

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A proposal to make New York City the nation's 51st state is gaining surprisingly strong support in the legislature.

Democratic Assemblyman Leonard M. Simon of Brooklyn introduced a bill Wednesday that would be a first step toward creation of "a separate state within the five counties of New York City."

Simon picked up 50 co-sponsors in the Assembly. It takes 76 votes to pass bills in that house.

Most of the support came from New York City Democrats, who are deeply concerned about the cutbacks made by the Republican - controlled legislature this year in state financial assistance to local governments.

Simon maintains that the time has come to give his city sufficient home rule to negotiate with the federal government, rather than battling in Albany for adequate aid to meet such needs as education and welfare.

"This is the ultimate in home rule," Simon told a reporter after submitting his statehood bill.

The 34-year-old assemblyman, who was born and raised in Brooklyn, recently has been carrying a special flag to the State Capitol. He says the flag symbolizes what he is seeking to accomplish.

It has five stripes to represent the city's five boroughs. The colors are orange, white and blue, New York City's official colors. And the State of Liberty is superimposed across the stripes.

The Statue of Liberty, Simon explains, was chosen as "a symbol of freedom, something we're lacking now."

Under terms of his legislation, the question of whether New York City should be severed from the rest of the state would be put to the voters across New York in a referendum. A final decision would rest with the Congress.

Simon believes upstate voters would go along gladly.

"They want to get rid of us on an amicable basis," he says.

Simon first proposed the city statehood bill in 1969. At that time, however, he had no co - sponsors. The measure died in committee and Simon was ejected from the Assembly chamber when he unfurled his flag during a Saturday night session just before adjournment that year.

This year, by contrast, his supporters include Stanley Steingut of Brooklyn, the Democratic minority leader in the Assembly, and Frank G. Rossetti, an assemblyman who also is the Democratic party leader in Manhattan.

The list of co-sponsors also includes two upstate Republicans, Assemblymen Albert Hausbeck of Buffalo and Ronald Tills of Hamburg.

Simon describes his bill as a "bold and new approach" to the problems of New York City, whose eight million residents, he claims, are suffering because of short - sightedness in the state legislature.

Democratic Assemblyman Anthony DiFalco of Manhattan, one of the 50 co-sponsors of the Simon bill, took a comparable tack by saying:

"It is hoped that with the great support that this concept has received in the New York Sate legislature that the federal government will take notice and begin to supply the much-needed assistance that New York City requires."

WU Strike Is Spreading

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Western Union offices in upstate New York nearly halted operations Wednesday as a strike by telegraph workers idled some 17,000 Western Union employes across the nation.

A spot survey by The Associated Press in the larger cities upstate showed that 125 members of Local 47, United Telegraph Workers, were out in Syracuse, about 40 members of Local 39 were out in Albany, four were out in Binghamton and about 70 in Buffalo.

Offices in those four cities, like those across the nation, were closed to the public, while supervisory personnel handled transmissions over leased wire, teletype exchange services and private services to businesses.

The UTW strikers, along with some 3,000 represented by the Communications Workers of America, are seeking job guarantees in the proposed two-year contract. Current wages average $3.47 an hour.

View of Hijack Passengers

Havana in State of Disrepair

MIAMI (UPI) —The very word Havana seems to epitomize the sensuous glamour of tropical nightlife. Thousands of American tourists who streamed to the Cuban capital in the 1950's called it "the Paris of the Caribbean."

Then came Fidel Castro and the revolution. Cuba was closed to "Yankee imperialists." Havana became a tropical wallflower.

Word filtered out during the past decade about the spartan life in Havana, but the first real look at the city came this week when 68 persons aboard a hijacked airliner were detained almost four days by the Cubans, The Pan American World Airways jetliner returned to the United States Wednesday.

"I've traveled all over Latin America, but I've seen nothing like it . . . the whole town was very dilapidated and no house could be said not to need a coat of paint," said one of the hijacked passengers, Mrs. Heidi Tortura of Nassau.

The pilot, Capt. George Ashley, 52, of Coral Gables, Fla., said he was last in Havana 11 years ago and it "has changed drastically."

"It is very, very rundown. Along the Malecon (a boulevard skirting the bay that once was Havana's most picturesque drive) there are pigpens on the roofs, chicken pens on the roofs, you wouldn't recognize it. It looks like a ruin."

Stan Weitzman, 32, a hotel executive from Los Angeles, took a more philosophical view. He said the bus tours, trips to the beach, and round of nightspots (opened especially for them) seemed to show visitors "life after the revolution was hard, but they were working to better themselves."

Other passengers said apparel seemed to be shabby and buildings in a state of disrepair.

Connally Renews His Selling Mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally planned a second trip to Capitol Hill today to sell the Nixon administration's general revenue-sharing plan to a hard-to-convince House Ways and Means Committee.

Connally spent a grueling day before the committee Wednesday, defending the proposal for a $5-billion, no-strings allocation to state and local governments.

And the tenor of questions and comments fired at him by most members seemed to rule out already any chance a majority could be mustered for the proposal. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., repeated his prediction the committee will not clear it for House action.

But Mills told newsmen: "We are not going to let the cities go down the drain."

He said the cities' problems seem more pressing than those of the states and several possibilities are under consideration, including a special government-backed bank for municipal financing.

Dealing President Nixon another setback in a related field, the House Wednesday turned down, 204 to 182, the first of six special revenue-sharing plans to come to a vote.

The House rejected a comprehensive overhaul of federal manpower programs, part of Nixon's project to provide $11 billion in special block allocations superseding many categorical federal-state aid programs.

Some of the sharpest criticism of the $5-billion general revenue-sharing program came from the senior Republican member of Ways and Means, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin.

Byrnes is backing a substitute measure to provide federal income tax credits for part of the state and local income taxes paid by individuals. He contends it would be more responsible to afford this relief and then leave the states to enact their own additional taxes to take up the slack and finance their own projects.

Byrnes said the amount of tax effort varies widely from state to state and asked: "Why by monetary aid should we perpetuate the disparity between what the states do for themselves?"

He produced figures grouping the states by their tax effort—local revenue raised in proportion to personal income.

If all states made an effort comparable to the top 10, Byrnes said, they could raise $18.6 billion more in revenue.

The top 10 on Byrnes' list are Wyoming, North Dakota, New Mexico, Hawaii, California, New York, Arizona, Alaska, Nevada and Minnesota.

Heavily criticized by several members was the complicated formula by which the federal funds would be allocated, first to the states then in part to counties and municipalities.

Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., said his home city of Tampa would receive $14.51 per capita, while Commerce, Calif., "with no blacks, no poverty, an affluent community," would get $47.78.

He cited $22.80 per capita to Miami Beach and $10.95 to Plant City, Fla.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, contributed another comparison: Lincoln Heights, Ohio, $2.08; Beverly Hills, Fla., $24.40.

Connally acknowledged that, because the local distribution formula takes into account total taxes collected, some wealthy towns and suburbs would be heavily rewarded.

But in general, he said, central cities would receive much more per capita than suburbs—and he invited suggestions for improving the formula.

Israel Asks Assurances on U.S. Arms Aid

By United Press International

Israel has asked the United States for assurances of continued arms supplies in light of the new Soviet-Egyptian agreement, diplomatic sources in Jerusalem said today.

The sources said the issue of further weapons supplies was raised Wednesday at a meeting in Washington between Israel Ambassador Yitzhak Rabin and Assistant Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco.

At almost the same time, Egyptian president Anwar Sadat in a speech to his parliament made it clear he signed the 15-year "friendship" treaty because he wants more Soviet military aid, particularly modern electronic equipment.

Describing the treaty as "one of the most important developments" in Egypt, Sadat said Wednesday "there is a basic new element in this agreement which made us want it and insist on signing it." He then quoted the article in the treaty calling for continued Soviet military cooperation between Cairo and Moscow.

"This is the new thing," he said. "This is what we want and what we insist on because we believe that the battle will be imposed on us and that the last word in the conflict will be said in the battlefield.

In Jordan, where fresh fighting has broken out again between government forces and Palestinian guerrillas, political sources said the commandos will receive no quarter from the Jordanian army from now on.

Caldor Chain Sets Record For Quarter

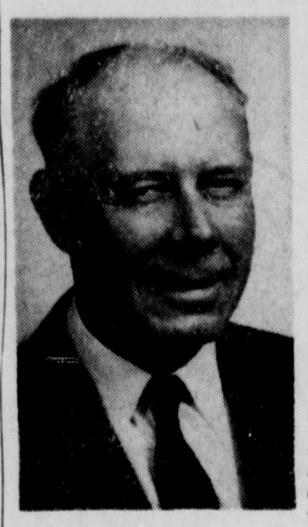

NORWALK, CONN.

Caldor, Inc. (Amex) a leading discount department store chain, announced record operating results for the quarter ended May 1, 1971. Sales climbed 13.4 per cent to $20,687,548 compared to $18,246,066 in the first fiscal quarter of 1970. Pre-tax earnings rose to $333,438 from $226,978 last year. Net earnings after taxes increased to $181,138 from $113,278 a year ago, a gain of approximately 60 per cent with earnings of six cents per share for the quarter compared to four cents a share in the similar quarter last year adjusted for a stock dividend and distribution.

Recently, the company announced the declaration of its first cash dividend of 10 cents per share payable June 25 to stockholders of record on June 11 1971. The cash dividend was a special one declared by the Board of Directors in recognition of the Company's profit performance for the year ended Jan. 30, 1971. It is not anticipated that a cash dividend will become part of a regular program. However, the board will review the propriety of declaring such special dividends in the future after reviewing the profit performance and working capital needs of the company.

Additionally, Carl Bennett, president, told the stockholders that the company planned to open three stores this year — in Branford and Torrington, Connecticut and another in Poughkeepsie.

The company previously reported earnings of $3,718,132 or $1.16 per share for the year ended Jan. 30, 1971 compared to $3,064,750 or 96 cents per share a year ago after giving recognition to the 5 per cent stock dividend paid in August 1970 and the one-for-four stock distribution paid in April 1971.

Insurance Agent Gains Membership

KINGSTON

Membership in the Million Dollar Round Table, an international association of leading life insurance agents, has been attained for the first time by Robert G. Dawkins, Prudential of America agent in Kingston.

MDRT membership is attained each year by less than two per cent of over 400,000 licensed life insurance agents in the U.S. It is one of the highest individual achievements in the insurance profession, and has been compared with an actor winning an "Oscar" or a baseball player being installed into the Hall of Fame.

Requirements for membership include compliance with a strict code of ethics and personal sales production of a least $1 million of new life insurance on ten or more lives during the calendar year. To become a full-fledged MDRT member, agents must meet all qualifications for two consecutive years, or three out of five consecutive years. During this probationary period, they hold a restricted status as "provisional applicants."

Annual meetings of the Million Dollar Round Table have been called the "sales forums par excellence" of the life insurance industry. These week-long, intense educational programs are packed with lectures, workshops and seminars, and are designed to improve the agent's ability to serve his clients. Leaders of related professions, such as law, banking and accounting also participate. Outstanding educators, statesmen, philosophers, authors and economists address Round Table meetings to contribute to the association's "Whole Man" concept of personal growth.

The 44th MDRT Annual Meeting is scheduled for June 21-25, in Washington, D.C. At this meeting, over 80 speakers will focus on the "agent as a businessman," exploring for attendees the complex and multi-faceted business operation of today's life underwriter. Speakers include: Pulitzer Prize-winning author, James A. Michener; U.S. Representative Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.), Chairman of the House Ways & Means Committee; and W. J. Beeners, D.D., Director of Speech at the Princeton Theological Seminary.

Six-Month Business Upturn

Despite much wailing and gnashing of teeth from certain sources, evidence is piling up of a solid upturn in the nation's economy. Statistical indicators, that tend to foreshadow future business activity, rose for the sixth straight month in April, the government announced.

The Census Bureau's index of leading business indicators rose 1.4 per cent, in that month, to 124.1 per cent of the 1967 average. The index has climbed nine per cent since the six-month uptrend began in November. Harold C. Passer, assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs, said "The continuing rise adds further weight to the conclusion that a solid sustained economic expansion is on the way."

Economists of all persuasions generally agree that the economy has turned upward. The argument now is how big and how fast the recovery will be. Some analysts admit the indicators help determine the direction of the economy, but doubt their value in forecasting the size of an economic expansion or contraction. They call in other factors, such as the monetary and fiscal state of the economy.

Passer contends that the uptrend is solid and sustainable on the basis of the composite index and other portents. Pessimists, especially critics of Mr. Nixon's economic policies among Democrats and organized labor, regard the economy as soft and shaky.

What the public must keep in mind is that the actual state of the economy is the important consideration, and that it reacts as much to encouragement as to pessimism. In other words, the economy is probably at a point where enthusiasm will push it ahead and disparagement haul it back.

Rising Payroll Taxes

Thanks to Brookings Institute studies, it is possible to report that payroll taxes now constitute the second largest source of federal funds, and the fastest growing. Payroll taxes provide more income to the treasury than corporate income taxes, or any other federal taxes except the individual income tax.

The welfare reform and social security bill devised by Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee will raise the rate of the Social Security tax in three steps from the present 5.2 per cent to 7.4 per cent in 1977. The wage base for Social Security taxes will increase from the present $7,800 to $10,200 next year. The result is that the payroll tax for a man making a bit less than $200 a week will rise from $405 to $755 a year, and those making less will rise accordingly.

Usually, Mills manages to get a closed rule for his tax bills. That means that his bills rush through the House with no chance for meaningful amendments. It shows how insensitive to real pocketbook issues politicians have become. For here is a tax that will hit hardest on low and middle income people and it bids fair to sail through the House with little if any challenge.

Under Democratic control, Congress has cut income taxes with their legitimate deductions for dependents and other credits and has raised payroll taxes, with no credits given to wage earners. They have made the whole federal tax system regressive. Before it is too late, we hope there will be bold men in the House who will expose this inequity and, if not, then in the Senate.

Social Security taxes are getting out of hand and something should be done to make them more equitable.

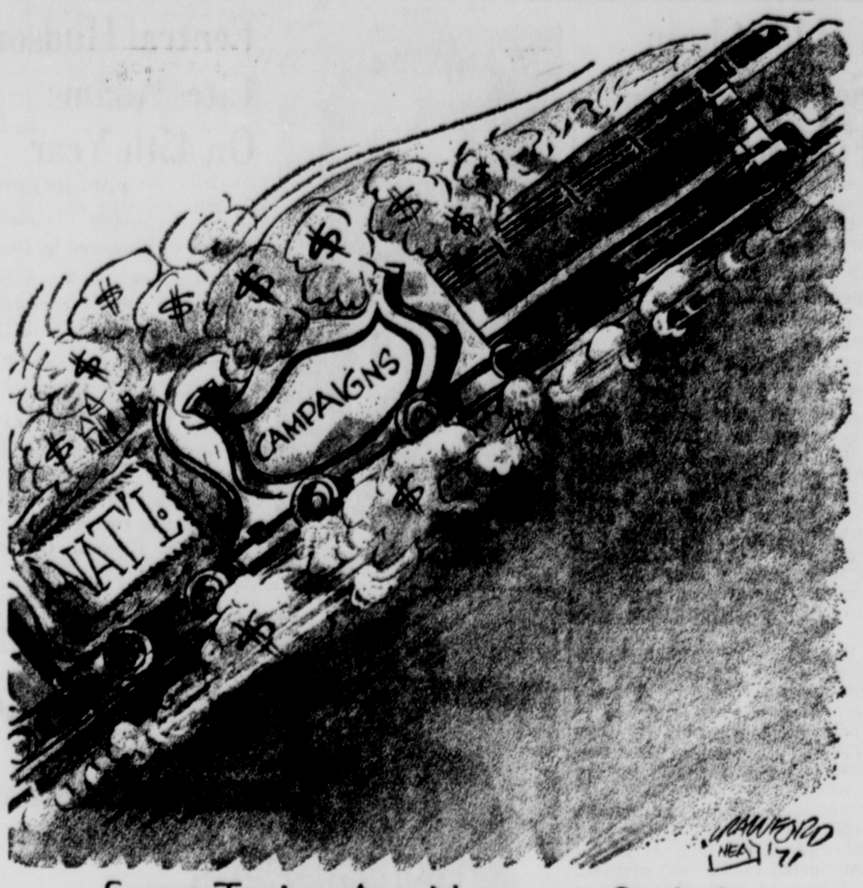

Wilderness Next Door

Americans find relief from the strains and stresses of the week in many ways, but the newest and fastest growing seems to be turning weekends into brief vacations, or extended treks into the wilderness. Often, the trek is only a dozen miles or so, to make the most use of the weekend by pitching tent in the wilderness next door.

There are an estimated 50 million confirmed campers in the country. For the short weekend, they seek out the quiet and peace of state and national parks within easy driving distance. For longer vacations, they might drive hundreds of miles to seek out remote places. They break the established pattern of their lives and find freedom from routine with their loved ones—for the tent campers usually sleep six—and parents and children enjoy the break together.

Eight out of ten have some sort of vehicle-camper trailer. They leave home after work and, with daylight saving, set up and have supper before dark. For $3 a night—less in many camping grounds—campers can spread a bedroll, pitch a tent, unfold a camper or park a trailer, and the next morning shower and groom themselves in the tiled bathhouse, complete with coin operated laundry. It's living away from home with all the conveniences.

Some Trains Are Never on Strike!

David Lawrence Says
Soviet Will Become More Involved in Middle East

WASHINGTON — Every now and then news events suddenly give us big headlines in the press that ought to tell not only many members of Congress but lots of other persons who call for less involvement of the United States in world affairs that fundamental developments are going on which directly affect American foreign relations.

Thus, the governments of the Soviet Union and Egypt have just entered into a treaty which amounts to a military alliance. The Soviet and Egyptian Presidents, who signed the new document, claim that its purpose is to establish peace in the Middle East. But the official Soviet News Agency has declared that the main reason for the agreement is to deal with the "dangerous situation" resulting from Israel's "imperialist aggression" against the Arab countries. It cited a statement from the communique that both Egypt and Russia "noted that Israel, relying on support from the United States, is acting as an aggressor."

The Soviet Union has pledged to continue to train Egyptians in the use of all arms supplied them by Russia, and the treaty contains provisions covering Communist assistance in economic, political, scientific and technological fields. This makes it evident that the Soviet government is going to involve itself more deeply in the Middle East, despite the efforts being made by the American Secretary of State to find peaceful ways of solving the Mideast problem.

The complications, however, that might ensue from Soviet and Egyptian activities could mean a much larger entanglement for the United States than ever before in the Mideast. Many members of Congress who are opposed to the support given to South Vietnam do not hesitate to speak out emphatically urging that assistance continue to be provided to Israel. Might the United States become enmeshed in the Mideast crisis to such an extent that more and more military aid will be proposed in behalf of Israel?

What does all this mean with respect to a reduction of American forces assigned to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe? It is being assumed that the Western European countries will recognize that a larger share of the burden will have to be borne by allies of the United States in Europe. Secretary of the Treasury John Connally — in a speech last week at Munich, Germany, before an international banking conference of delegates from 20 nations — said:

"We today spend nearly nine per cent of our gross national product on defense — nearly 5 billion dollars of that overseas, and much of it in Western Europe and Japan.

"Financing a military shield is part of the burden of leadership. But 25 years after World War II, legitimate questions arise over how the cost of these responsibilities should be allocated among the free-world allies who benefit from that shield."

If the Middle East situation increases in gravity, the chances are that little will be done about reducing the number of allied troops in either Europe or Asia. Also, attention will be focused on whether the Soviet Union is really interested in making peace.

Some dispatches from Israel say that the Soviets, having invested billions of dollars in Egypt, wanted the pact as a means of increasing their influence over the Egyptians. Israel, although worried about the new developments, indicates that it will continue to work for peace. The Arab nations are, of course, enthusiastic about the agreement between Egypt and the Soviet Union. They look upon it as a major step toward a settlement of the Mideast conflict on their terms.

American foreign policy has more angles to it now than before. Anybody in Congress who wants to remove all our troops from Vietnam "by a certain date" or weaken the military support being given to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will not be creating abroad an impression of strength for this country. Israel, moreover, will be looking more and more for some moves by the United States that will make possible a settlement on reopening the Suez Canal and reduce the chances that Egypt, backed by the Soviet Union, will undertake military action.

It seems inevitable that pleas will be made in Congress for military aid to Israel so it may be able to defend itself against aggression in the event that Egypt or some other Arab country decides that Soviet "support" makes such a course worth risking.

Arms Agreement With Moscow Will Not Halt Arms Race

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If President Nixon is able to reach an arms agreement with Moscow of the type his advisers now think most likely, it will not eliminate the armaments race. Nor is it likely to change the intensity of the race.

The way it appears now, there will be no U.S.-Soviet agreement against MIRV (the missiles with a bevy of independently targeted warheads), or on ballistic missile submarines, fractionally orbiting missiles long-range bombers or smaller ICBMs. There will perhaps be a limit on ABM sites and on the number of certain intercontinental missiles, such as the Soviet SS-9s.

It would not be difficult to make such a limited agreement ineffectual.

For limiting the number of a major intercontinental ballistic missile (such as the SS-9) can be an exercise in futility.

Say, for example, the limit is set at 300 SS-9s, a number talked about in some back-room sessions. This sounds excellent. Three hundred SS-9s, with one warhead each, obviously can't effectively endanger a force of 1,000 or so U.S. Minutemen, even in a Russian first strike.

The Russians, of course, can put three warheads in each missile, or later, as many as six. Though six warheads each for 300 SS-9s would produce 1,800 warheads, at the present level of Soviet technical know-how, the accuracy and yield (power) of these 1,800 warheads would not likely knock out sufficient numbers of Minutemen to make this missile force unable to retaliate effectively against the Soviet Union.

But Russia is now pushing ahead full tilt at stepping up the explosive power that can be developed from small warheads. And she is working toward major increases in accuracy.

If the Soviet Union continues to pour in research funds at an increasing pace on these two objectives, it will not be many years before 300 SS-9s could be equipped with 1,800 warheads with the accuracy and yield required to seriously threaten the effectiveness of the U.S. Minuteman forces.

Of course, the United States will not be standing still. Anticipating these Russian advances, this country will build harder and even yet harder Minuteman silos, develop mobile ICBMs and push the further development of ballistic missiles submarines, not now expected to be included in the first SALT agreement.

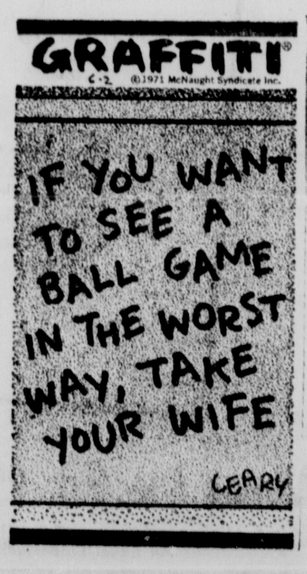

The disarmament argument runs that if you can't have an over-all arms agreement, then take one step. This reasoning is sound, if each step leads toward a cutback or a real ceiling.

But the type of agreement now being talked about may merely divert the arms race from one road to another.

This is the same problem the United States was faced with when Washington cut back on crop acreage in order to hold down some types of farm production. A slew of farmers merely applied more technology and actually increased their output on smaller acreages of land.

The Germans after World War I, prohibited from building naval ships above a specified size, developed the powerful "pocket" battleship.

Nevertheless, after all this has been said, an agreement of the type described above may be well worth going after. What's needed to get an effective arms agreement is some sort of experience. And experience can best be gotten by trying one road after another. This is not overly dangerous if the U.S. strategists keep their wits about them. And if they learn as they go.

Jack Anderson Says
Air Force Silences Colonel Who Warned of Microwaves

WASHINGTON — Deep in its bureaucracy, the Air Force has silenced another "Billy Mitchell" who dared to warn that microwave devices hurt servicemen's eyes.

For speaking out on a subject that the Air Force wanted hushed up, he quickly lost his research job.

The original Billy Mitchell was a tough Army Air Corps officer who was court-martialed because he wouldn't stop telling his brassbound bosses that the U.S. needed to pay more attention to air power.

Col. Alvin Burner, an Air Force scientist and physician, is totally unlike the wasp-tongued Mitchell. So mild is Burner that he begged us not to print this story.

But his friends have given us the facts that the Air Force had hoped to hide:

In 1968, Colonel Burner, then head of radiobiology at the Aerospace Medical Division, came to the inescapable conclusion that certain microwave emissions can cause serious eye trouble sometimes years after exposure.

Burner already knew the chances he was taking. All three services expose hundreds of young servicemen daily to radar and other radiation waves. By exposing the danger, he could open the armed forces to hundreds of damage claims.

Risked Career

But the injured eyes of the young GIs haunted Burner. He decided to risk his career rather than stay silent. In May, 1969, he presented a paper to the 4th Annual Symposium of the International Microwave Power Institute in Alberta, Canada.

Few high-level officers have ever laid their careers more sacrificially on the line. Burner wrote bluntly that, although radiation dangers have been suspected since 1890 and the military has been "Increasingly aware" of the hazard since 1955, the Air Force has done next to nothing about it.

A major study was left unfunded by the Air Force, he charged, even as the unpleasant evidence accumulated.

"The critical organ for microwave damage appears to be the crystalline lens of the eye," he said. "It is conceivable that a cataract may first become recognized several years after exposure. . . ."

Burner added ominously that although the eye was the main area of danger, microwaves might also cause heart, nerve, brain, blood and liver damage. He even took a swat at a sister service.

"The Navy," he wrote, "has realized for a long time that carrier deck crewmen who are exposed to relatively high intensity microwave fields during their watch show . . . hyperirritability fatigue and lassitude."

Investigation Suppressed

Burner recommended that the accepted levels of radiation set by the services be re-evaluated, which could mean discarding or changing millions of dollars worth of equipment.

Finally, Burner wrote that exhaustive investigations were needed and that he "would like to investigate other such parameters as hematologic, endocrine and biochemical changes."

Burner was never allowed to proceed. By August of 1969, he had been shifted from aerospace medicine to an administrative job in Washington. His new title sounded grand: chief of the medical division for the Air Force reserve. But the effect was to stifle the investigation and silence Burner.

Meanwhile, his findings of two years ago are now accepted almost as writ.

Burner's boss at the time of his trials was Maj. Gen. Charles Roadman, also a doctor, now retired from the Air Force. "There was no connection at all," between Burner's microwave work and his transfer, Roadman told us. "It was just time (for him) to go to Washington, nothing more."

Washington Whirl

Motorboat Pollution — The Environmental Protection Agency often protects the polluters rather than the environment. Conservationist Livingston Parmele tried to enlist the Agency in his fight to end motorboat pollution of lakes and streams. After all, the EPA's own studies show outboards spew up to 30 per cent of their fuel into the water. But EPA's Associate General Counsel, Robert Zener, wrote Parmele that the Federal Water Pollution Control Act exempts "discharges of oil from properly functioning vessel engines. That, Parmele told us acidly, is exactly the point: no engine throwing off 30 per cent of its fuel can possibly be deemed "properly functioning."

Capp's Conspiracy — Al Capp, the humorist and hard-liner, is claiming his recent indictment in Wisconsin on dirty-old-man charges is part of a plot by the radical left to "get" him. But Lawrence Derning, the district attorney who issued the warrant for Capp's arrest, happens to be a former president of the Conservative Club (now a chapter of Young Americans for Freedom) at the University of Wisconsin. He worked for Barry Goldwater in 1964 and was a delegate for Richard Nixon at the Republican convention in 1968. Although Capp's conspiracy theory might seem hard to buy, William Buckley, the brilliant conservative commentator, was sufficiently impressed with it to telephone Derning personally to make sure he hadn't been taken in by the Bolsheviks.

FAA Reversal — John Saxman, a dedicated air traffic controller, warned the Federal Aviation Administration 18 months ago of dangerous radar conditions over lower Virginia and upper North Carolina. The FAA did nothing, and six persons were killed last year in a crash caused by the very conditions Saxman had warned against. After we told the story, the FAA fired Saxman — allegedly because he was a "leader" of the air traffic controllers' "sick-in" for better working conditions. The charge that Saxman was a leader was transparent nonsense; he wasn't even an officer of the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization. The FAA refused, however, to reverse itself, even in the face of inquiries from Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and from House commerce Chairman Harley Staggers, D-W. Va. Now, however, a hearing examiner has ruled favorably on Saxman's appeal and the FAA has agreed to let him have his job back.

Henry J. Taylor Says
Washington Political Scene

South Dakota Senator George McGovern, a predictable loser of the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination, is on another cross-country tour to pin down his defeat.

It is a truism here that a political fire in the heart often causes smoke in the head. And Mr. McGovern merely gives added proof that the conflagration problem in Washington is now terrific.

In Washington that's what the whole town is — political intrigue. That's the only industry there. Nothing is manufactured in Washington except the machinery of politics. Can you name one single Washington product?

Pericles reflected in his "Source of Glory" that the country's glory "has been acquired by men who knew their duty and had the courage to do it." And, blessings be, there are many, many in Washington — far more than apparently realized by the millions who persist in calling the politicos "those Washington monkeys with the say-so."

The conflict between political and private life can be character-cutting. In general, politics in Byzantium-on-the-Potomac is a debasing and conspirational business. It feeds on pretense and gains through myths, contrived stances and ruthless opportunism which most people, including most of the same politicians, in their private lives oppose.

This is the puzzle: the good man personally, the opportunist politically.

Perhaps the only answer is that too much politics, like too much anything else, can be a killer. This applies any place. Listen to French philosopher Paul Valery: "politics! I regard the political necessity of exploiting all that is lowest in man's psyche as the greatest danger today."

Valery refers, of course, to making politicos who manipulate the people's emotions, hopes and beliefs to advance their own ambitions. And as able New York Times editor James Reston, an old hand at the scene here, once observed: "Many men succeed in politics by using their worst qualities."

Their political pitches come in all speeds and sizes — the wide-breaking curve, the tantalizing knuckler, the beanball, the fast one saved principally for an opposition party's President of the United States.

In Washington's concentration, beyond the wise and diligent, are the vibrant and buzzing, the bores, the buffoons and others who are taken too seriously, or perhaps not seriously enough. Some roar, others whisper in your ear. Those who talk the most usually know the least. In their barnyard chorus of quacking, clucking, gobbling, bleating, mooing and neighing we are expected to heart the selfless call of angels.

Their ambitious game is full of carom shots at everybody else. They call their opponents "friends," whatever that may mean in their language. And then a trick of inverted lights, most real friends seem to them enemies. Suspicion. Suspicion. How can it set in about nothing, about nearly everything?

Washington, wispy as a wheat field, lives by signals, symbols and inside status signs. The real ruler there is King Rumor, and he spreads his wares at the speed of sound. The Behistun Rock on the road to Babylon carries an inscription: "The Reign of the Lie." It was inscribed by Darius the Great, asserting he had destroyed it. He didn't, and it flourishes mightily in our capital where even arithmetic — in fact, especially arithmetic — is subject to total imagination.

There is an entrenched school of thought in Washington that Presidents — any President — usually become so isolated from down-to-earth reality that they can't recognize bad news about themselves when they see it. The White House's rarefied air is a heady wine. It is not too easy to capitulate to reality.

Anyone who wants to stay close to the White House throne inevitably stumbles into fields of intrigue and quicksand where political battles go on. The harbingers of bad news can be everlastingly luckless. Favor is so desirable and rewarding that often they will sue for it by every possible means. This, in turn, can sway the ruler, who can succumb to it in his turn.

Ah, well, that's Washington. And you can be sure no President has escaped this school of though any more than President Nixon is escaping it now, and if the city's rumor merchants weren't saying this they would be saying something else.

What You Can Do About Dangerous Drugs

Four Main Classes of Drugs

LSD is by far the most potent of the hallucinogens. A dose no larger than the point of a pin is enough to send most people off on an annoying, damaging trip within their own minds.

Third in a Series
By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

Wise parents should lead from strength of fact and knowledge in discussing drugs intelligently and effectively with their children.

To do so, they must know what the various mind-influencing drugs are, how they differ from one another, what each kind of drug does or doesn't do. Young people have raced far ahead of most parents in acquiring a lore of basic information; although many of them also have serious gaps in their information.

This survey is concerned with four main classes of drugs — those that produce hallucinations; the stimulant drugs; the depressant drugs, and narcotics.

MARIJUANA: As generally used in this country, marijuana is a mild drug producing a feeling of relaxed well-being, a "high," and sometimes fantasies. It is NOT a narcotic — although so classed under some law — and it does NOT lead to physical dependence or addiction to it. It may lead to psychological dependence, or desire, however.

Under influence of marijuana, time stretches out, distances and sounds are magnified, and reflexes are slowed, which could mean a hazard in driving a car.

It is not true that marijuana is a first step to going on to hard drugs like heroin. This sometimes happens, but nothing inherent in marijuana leads to stronger drugs. What may frequently happen is that pushers in a neighborhood are selling both types of drugs, so it's easier to experiment with a stronger one.

LSD: By far this is the most potent hallucinogen. With this synthetic chemical, a dose no larger than the point of a pin is enough to send most people off on amazing "trips" within their own minds, with emotional experiences and observations greatly magnified. Some people react with anxiety, and a few have been fatally injured in belief they were invulnerable to the real world. No physical dependence develops, but psychological dependence may.

Other hallucinogens include mescaline, from the button of a small cactus plant; peyote or mescal, whose effects are milder than those from LSD; peyote itself, which is milder than mescaline; psilocybin from a Mexican mushroom; morning glory seeds capable of producing some fantasy experiences; and synthetics such as DMT and STP.

BARBITURATES AND DEPRESSANTS: Many people become physically and psychologically dependent upon barbiturates for sleep, to combat anxiety or tensions, or to experience highs. Some say these drugs make them feel more alive, or capable of facing daily or special situations. A combination with alcohol can kill. These are the "downer" drugs. Prolonged use can impair judgement and intellectual performance.

AMPHETAMINES AND STIMULANTS: Overuse and abuse of these pep-up pills induce a sense of good feeling, of boundless energy and of never feeling tired — but there comes a time of physical and emotional payoff. Methamphetamine or "speed" is especially potent, particularly when injected.

HEROIN AND OTHER NARCOTICS: Opium, used perhaps from Stone Age time, was an original drug to ease pain and block out emotional reactions. Then came morphine, a medical pain-killer, and then heroin, which has no medical use but which is one of the more awesome drugs of abuse now. It produces both physical and psychological dependence. Heroin users may become "hooked" after using the drug daily for a week or so.

GLUE SNIFFING: Children may sniff airplane glue, gasoline or other toxic vapors, for the dizzy reaction they receive. What they don't know is that for many years, industries have gone to great pains to ventilate plants where products with such poisonous vapors are made to protect the health of employes.

Addict's Life Shown on Film

NEWTOWN, Pa. (AP) — He died in jail a drug addict. In pain. He was hooked on heroin, a habit that reached 75 bags daily at a cost of $750 before his arrest.

He left behind a filmed confession, warning young people not to experiment with marijuana and hard drugs.

The film was made for police in April 1970, four months before he died awaiting trial for burglary. It is now being processed for school distribution, delayed because of legal problems with his family.

"Stop before you start," he said.

"Everyone near you, you hurt," he said. "No one escapes it.

The 29-year-old son of a white middle class suburban school teacher was identified only as "Dennis," to protect his wife and three children.

Those who fool around with marijuana are kidding themselves, he said.

"It has been my experience over the years with other drug addicts that the greater majority of them, if not all of them, start out wih marijuana and then progress to harder drugs . . ."

His arms and legs were covered with needle marks. They were almost as hard as stone after 13 years of injection after injection. Even under his fingernails.

"I used every vein that was available, in every part of my body," he said.

Dennis told his story in the studio of the Lower Bucks Cabletelevision to detectives of the Bucks County district attorney's office, in this small Philadelphia suburb. He agreed to do it to reach kids in junior and senior high schools and show them what being an addict is like.

Dennis said his drug addiction began at 16, when he tried heroin. He switched briefly to cocaine while he was being treated in a methadone withdrawal program.

"There's no cure for heroin addiction," he said. "It can be stopped and aborted in the early stages if a person is reached in time. But don't think for a minute that methadone is some sort of wonder drug that is going to stop you from drug addiction.

"While I was on the methadone it satisfied my physical craving for drugs. I no longer had this desire for heroin. But methadone didn't substitute the psychological feeling nor the physical rush that you get from injecting drugs into your system. It just didn't do it, it couldn't do it. Nothing can . . ."

"Over the years, I've witnessed a minimum of 12 or 15 deaths from heroin. I've seen people die in cellars. I've seen people die on rooftops. Bathrooms. Service stations.'

Dennis said he stole to pay for his habit. Police granted him immunity from prosecution on drug charges as he outlined his activities.

Drug Prevention Group Elects Mrs. Turkfeld

ELLENVILLE

The year old Friends and Parents Organization, a group of residents from the Town of Wawarsing formed to deal with and prevent narcotics addiction, held its annual elections at a recent meeting.

The new officers are Mrs. Mitzie Turkfeld, president; Mrs. Renee Dickman, vice-president; Milton Kossar, fund raising chairman; Mrs. Bea Brown, treasurer and Mrs. Sharon Giovanniello, secretary.

The group, which meets every Thursday night at 8 p.m. in classroom 111 of the Ellenville Central School, was formed last year by a few parents and interested persons who discovered that their children or neighbors were using drugs.

The first meetings were held at the Wawarsing Educational Center storefront in Ellenville, where problems were discussed in a group therapy-like setting. The group is now extending an open invitation to all Wawarsing residents to join since, "Each parent, professional and clergyman is involved in some way, at sometime, with the problems brought about by drug use."

Link Protestors to the Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Justice Department's No. 2 man contended today that mass arrests of Mayday antiwar demonstrators were legal, constitutional, and essential to control a "vicious and wanton mob attack on Washington."

In what one official described as the final defense of the legality of the mass arrests, Kleindienst said arrests of 7,000 demonstrators May 3 and 4 were perfectly legal."

"There is no requirement in the Constitution or in the D.C. Code that police should have turned their backs on a rampaging mob in order to busy themselves as clerks with procedural forms."

Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst also linked leaders of the protest with the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

"Make no mistake, this was a calculated attempt by organized disrupters led by people who had met repeatedly with Viet Cong and North Vietnamese leaders," he said.

"It was not a group of frolicking picnickers, as some Washington columnists have tried to make out. This was deadly serious business to halt the U.S. government, and attacks on a rampaging mob in force of 20,000 had been previously adopted as an administrative procedure."

Kleindienst said, "the police should have turned their backs on a rampaging mob in order to busy themselves as clerks with procedural forms."

Ellenville Man Surrenders In Hit-Run Fatality

ELLENVILLE

A 25-year-old man surrendered to State Police here at 8 p.m. Wednesday in connection with a fatal hit-and-run accident that occurred on Route 52 between this village and Greenfield Park earlier in the day.

Sergeant James Fitzgerald said Alan B. Roberts of 35 Chapel Street, Ellenville, was cited for leaving the scene of an accident and reckless driving in connection with the death of Albert Navarro, 32, of Napanoch.

Roberts, who was accompanied by Attorney Carl Goldstein of Monticello when he turned himself in to police, was arraigned before Rochester Town Justice Harold Lipton. He was freed in $500 bail pending a hearing at a later date.

Navarro was fatally injured at about 12:50 a.m. yesterday when his car was struck from behind by another and flipped over on the highway. The driver of the other car reportedly fled from the scene. Navarro was discovered in the wreckage of his vehicle by Anthony Bugma of Liberty, who made the identification.

Trial Date Set for Doctor

NEW YORK CITY

A trial date of Oct. 4 has been set in the case of Dr. Arthur J. Freeman, 57, a general practitioner with offices in Port Ewen, who had been arraigned in April on charges stemming from a federal grand jury indictment in regard to false claims for medicare payments.

At the April arraignment in U.S. District Court, Dr. Freeman could not appear due to illness and a plea of innocent was entered in his behalf. Dr. Freeman was charged in a 14-count indictment involving 13 different patients.

The U.S. Attorney's Office in New York City said the case will be scheduled in U.S. District Court in the Federal Courthouse, Foley Square, New York City.

Youth Caught In Paltz Store, Is Arrested

NEW PALTZ

Surprised by two policemen inside the Bomze and Van Vlack Drugs, Inc., store on Main Street, this village, at 11:20 p.m. Wednesday, 19-year-old Anthony Kennard formerly of Connecticut, allegedly threatened and attempted to assault the officers with a hatchet.

Kennard, identified by Police Chief James Walrath as a bus boy employed at the Lake Mohonk Mountain House, was subsequently charged with burglary second degree and possessing a dangerous weapon.

The youth was arraigned before Town Justice Rexford Schneider. He pleaded innocent to both counts and was committed to the Ulster County jail in lieu of bail totaling $2,500 pending a hearing on Friday.

Chief Walrath said a call was received at headquarters from a resident reporting the front window of the drug store was broken.

Patrolmen John Savago and Lewis Olson went to investigate. They spotted someone inside the store and as the police entered with guns drawn they saw the youth later identified as Kennard, holding a hatchet in his hands.

Police said the defendant attempted to hit the officers with the hatchet before he was chased to the rear of the store and subdued.

Chief Walrath said Kennard had been seen loitering around Main Street in the vicintiy of the pharmacy yesterday afternoon with another youth. Walrath also reported some merchandise had been removed from shelves before police were called.

School Board Scheduled to Act on Bids

KINGSTON

Bid openings for two projects in the Kingston Consolidated School District took place earlier this week.

Post Sprinkler of Albany submitted a low bid of $10,624 for installation of a sprinkler system in the district warehouse on East Chester Street. The Albany firm bid $7,370 for the sprinkler system itself and $3,254 for connections. The bid was the only one submitted that met budgeted requirments.

Two other bids were submitted. Mid-Hudson Sprinklers of Poughkeepsie bid $12,586 and Bank Brothers of Kingston bid $19,500.

Ira Shaw, business manager, said the sprinkler system will be installed at the request of the Kingston Fire Department and the insurance company for the school district. He explained that the difference in insurance premiums alone over the next 10-15 years will pay for installation of the sprinkler system.

Bids were also opened Tuesday for the transportation of approximately 1,760 pupils of the school district beginning September 8. James E. Tobin, pupil personnel director, refused to reveal results of the bidding, stating that the Board of Education should first have the opportunity to examine the bids.

The Board is expected to act on the bids at tonight's meeting.

Hoffa Sends Word to Teamsters He Will Relinquish Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa has sent word from his prison cell that he will finally relinquish his 14-year reign over the giant labor union, informed sources said today.

The tough, 58-year-old Hoffa, whose stormy career as chief of the 2-million member union ended in prison four years ago, reportedly endorsed the union's general vice president, Frank E. Fitzsimmons, to succeed him.

Hoffa, serving 13 years for jury tampering and mail fraud in the Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary, had exhausted innumerable legal avenues in a fruitless effort to win his freedom in time to run for re-election next month before finally giving in and agreeing to step aside.

High Union sources had speculated for months that the government would not release him until he agreed to step down from the presidency of the union that wields powerful control in the nation's trucking industry.

It was not immediately clear whether Hoffa agreed to resign before the Teamsters convention opening in Miami Beach July 5, thus making Fitzsimmons union president immediately, or whether Hoffa will hold office until the new election.

Either way, Fitzsimmons—handpicked by Hoffa as his stand-in at the last convention five years ago shortly before Hoffa went to prison—is regarded a cinch for endorsement by the dozen other Teamsters vice presidents.

"There's a new Frank Fitzsimmons," said one source, referring to Fitzsimmons' obvious joy over Hoffa's decision.

Hoffa had kept other Teamsters leaders waiting for the decision up to the union's last executive board meeting in Hollywood, Fla., last month. Hoffa sent word then he wanted more time in a last bid for freedom on the basis of a purported deposition from the chief prosecution witness, Edward Grady Partin, whose testimony sent him to prison. Partin denied making the alleged deposition recanting much of his testimony.

The 63-year-old Fitzsimmons, a long-time friend of Hoffa from their early Detroit days in the union, has run the union since Hoffa went to prison in 1967.

Others in the Teamsters' hierarchy reportedly preferred Fitzsimmons' looser control, allowing them more sway in their own union districts. Hoffa, in contrast, had tightly gripped most power in his own hands, sometimes bypassing other officials to deal directly with union members.

More Dead Eagles Sought in Canyons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Searchers may discover more dead eagles in the remote canyons of Wyoming where 48 of the majestic birds already have been found poisoned, electrocuted or shot to death.

"There's evidence to suggest there are more," said Mrs. Barbara Dobas of Casper, Wyo., a member of National Audubon Society.

Mrs. Dobas told a Senate subcommittee Thursday bad weather forced searchers to abandon efforts last weekend to comb pine-studded canyons where ranchers are suspected of carrying out private predator control programs.

William D. Ruckelshaus, administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, said Thursday 65 lbs. of deadly thallium sulfate sold to ranchers was believed responsible for the deaths of bald and golden eagles in Jackson Canyon near Casper.

"It's conceivable another Jackson Canyon may be discovered," said Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., who added that Wyoming's eagle population may be further endangered by hunters killing for feathers.

Probationary Firefighters Appointed

KINGSTON

The Board of Fire Commissioners appointed four probationary firefighters and one temporary dispatcher at its regular monthly meeting.

Appointed probationary firefighters were Kenneth R. Scherer, Ernest C. Renn, Robert J. Sills, and Paul N. Fisher, all natives of Kingston and graduates of Kingston High School. Their appointments become effective June 12 at an annual salary of $6,700.

John Dwyer, a former firefighter who resigned in 1967 to attend college, was appointed temporary dispatcher effective June 7. Annual salary will be $6,065.

Three of the four firefighters appointed are presently serving as provisional firefighters. Their appointments fill the present vacancies existing in the table of organization of the department, according to the Board of Fire Commissioners.

Fire Damages Area Bungalow

TOWN OF ULSTER

Firefighters from Ulster Hose Company 5 and a tanker unit from Glasco fire department battled flames that heavily damaged an unoccupied summer bungalow on the south end of Glenerie Boulevard in this town Wednesday.

Fire Chief William Williams and 25 volunteers responded to an alarm at 5:43 p.m. after the fire was discovered and reported to authorities. The blaze, which is believed to have originated in the living room area, spread to other parts of the frame structure which is owned by a Staten Island couple. The names were not given by authorities.

A tanker from Glasco was dispatched by Mutual Aid to assist at the scene. Five trucks responded to the call. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

It was reported that an outboard motor and tools also were damaged.

Fire units reported back in service at 7:24 p.m.

in personnel at $14,396. The report recommends paying a supervisor/cashier $2.75 per hour or $6,935 per year. The hourly rate of the cashier is recommended at $2.50 for a yearly salary of $5,395.

The report estimates a cost of $4,175 for maintenance of the garage with the biggest single item being snow removal at $1,700 per year.

The report also suggests a name for the garage: the Front and Fair Street Municipal Parking Facility; speed limit: five miles per hour; and that the rates proposed be put into effect on a six-month trail basis.

The facility will also have rest rooms which the report suggests should be locked with a key made available at the cashier's office.

The report also suggests a series of traffic ordinances to be passed by the council specifically designed for the garage.

The report was forwarded to the Finance Ways and Means Committee, the Laws and Rules Committee and the Building and Supply Committee of the Common Council by Alderman-at-Large T. Robert Gallo.

Final work on the garage is expected to be completed by the end of this week, according to James G. Connors, executive director of the urban renewal agency. City takeover could follow sometime late this month.

Lengthy Discussions At Angela Davis Trial

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI)—The murder case against Angela Davis was called "Disneyland North" by her lawyer Wednesday as proceedings lurched ahead despite another legal surprise from codefendant Richard Magee.

Attorney Howard W. Moore Jr. attacked Miss Davis' indictment on murder, kidnaping and conspiracy charges and said it should be dismissed outright or she should be released on bail.

Moore, Miss Davis' chief defense counsel, began his arguments late in the day after another of Magee's handwritten motions delayed proceedings for several hours. The hearing, which continued today, finally resumed after Judge Richard E. Arnason and Miss Davis' attorneys found a way to get around the motion.

Magee, 32, a San Quentin convict who hates attorneys but is one of the prison's hardest working self-taught lawyers, tied up the case with a petition asking that it be transferred from state to federal courts.

Judge Arnason, saying there was too much at stake to chance a future reversal on a technicality, ruled Magee's motion—filed May 23 in the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals—had suspended all proceedings at the state level.

After lengthy discussions in his chambers with lawyers on both sides, the judge got things going again by allowing Miss Davis' attorneys to file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

The 9th Circuit Court rejected Magee's petition late Wednesday, but Arnason said he would not resume the regular proceedings until he receives official notification.

Miss Davis, 27, an avowed Communist and former UCLA instructor, and Magee are charged in connection with an abortive escape and kidnaping attempt at Marin County courthouse last Aug. 7 that ended with a shootout in which four persons died, including a judge.

Miss Davis is charged with buying the guns used in the escape attempt by three San Quentin convicts and Magee is accused of firing the shotgun blast that killed Judge Harold Haley.

Treanor Donates For Another Member

KINGSTON — Paul Treanor, director of the Family Service Center, Childrens Home, Kingston, reached the two gallon mark with his donation of one pint of blood this week.

Treanor, who became the 157th member of the Ulster County Blood Bank, Inc. Sept. 23, 1970, has met his own obligation previously. He contributed this time, just three months later, for a member of his staff at the Children's Home, also a member, but unable to give blood because of medical reasons. This is one of the options available to all members of the Ulster County Blood Bank.

Treanor commenced donating blood in 1957 in Connecticut. He donated for a person who had open heart surgery in 1962, and has since given blood in New York City, Northern Dutchess Health Center and the Kingston City Laboratory before becoming a member of the Ulster County Blood Bank. He is to be most highly commended for his sense of civic responsibility in his continuing concern and desire to help others in need of this life saving fluid, a blood bank spokesman said.

The Ulster County Blood Bank recently received accreditation as an associate member of the American Association of Blood Banks, Inc. Besides many other outstanding services available to members, the AABB has an extremely rare blood type file of over 4,000 persons throughout the United States. In case of necessity, these are located instantly by computers, and immediate [illegible]ken to forward the rare type to its destination.

Wilfred G. Springer, executive director of the Blood Bank noted that, "The rarest type of blood is the type not available when you need it." For the protection of yourself and family, join today, don't delay, any longer. For information, please call 339-5525, Springer added.

Ulster Library Fair June 26

Ron Sanders and his Nova Dance Troupe will be among the entertainers scheduled to appear at the Town of Ulster Library Fair June 26.

The Nova Dance Troupe has performed on numerous occasions throughout the county for educational, civic and religious groups and has a repertoire which includes Greek, Ukrainian, Israeli and Slavic dances.

Other events planned for the fair include an outdoor art exhibit, book sale, flea market and antique sale. Refreshments will be served and prizes awarded. Admission is free.

The event will be held at the Town of Ulster Library, Morton Boulevard and Albany Avenue.

Awards Feature Scout Dinner

GLASCO — Awards highlighted the Annual Meeting and Recognition Dinner of the Rip Van Wink'e Council, Boy Scouts of America, held recently at the Glasco Firehouse.

John Fodor, an eagle scout from the Rip Van Winkle Council, was the key speaker of the evening and was later presented with a plaque for placing second in the Region Two Reader's Digest Public Speaking Contest.

William Belser, the reelected Council president, was presented with an appreciation plaque for his outstanding service to the Council over the past year.

Others elected to the Council posts were:

Vice-Presidents — Kenneth P. Pangburn, Donald Donohue, Dr. Jack Roosa and Richard Dillon.

Martin E. Scherry, treasurer; Nelson Barnett, Council commissioner; Arthur Betz, national council representative, and Thomas Backus, manpower chairman.

Awards were also given to those men who have involved themselves with the finances of the Council in the sustaining membership enrollment campaign. Cited were William Gelsleichter, Council Chairman for the past two years; Israel Slutsky, Mohican District chairman for the past two years; C. B. Slutsky, Council leadership gifts chairman; Clifford Snyder, Saugerties community chairman, and Malcolm Taylor, Minnewaska district chairman.

Certificates of appreciation were also presented to Mike Johnson of Kingston, Elwood Hitchcock of East Jewett and Alan McCorkle of Marbletown.

Mrs. Norma Dapp of Highland received the Silver Fawn award and A. Norman Wilson of Stone Ridge and Harold Harrison of Kingston received the Silver Beaver award. The two awards are the highest recognition a Scout Council can bestow on an individual involved in scouting.

The newly conceived District Award of Merit went to Erwin Tate of the Mohican District and Nelson Barnett of the Onteora District. Barnett and John Lenz of the Minnewaska District received the Woodbadge Award.

A GREATER S STANDARD

STANDARD'S SPECTACULAR 70th ANNIVERSARY

1901 1971

THE "BIG" SALE OF THE ENTIRE YEAR WITH GUARANTEED SAVINGS

IT'S GREAT TO BE 70!

There's a tremendous feeling of personal satisfaction when a business reaches its 70th birthday, still owned and operated by the same family, and growing faster than ever.

Last year was the biggest in our history. Although retailers across the country moaned and groaned, Standard's sales were up almost 10%; in the 10 years of the 60's Standards sales tripled! We have every hope and expectation that this trend will continue.

There must be some solid reasons for this growth; reasons that should be important to you as a furniture purchaser. We'd like to list a few of them:

We belong to three major buying groups — that membership plus our own buying power adds up to hundreds of millions of dollars of special values for you.

Our people are constantly trained to help you — with your purchase, your payment plan, your service problems.

We present the biggest selections, our prices are plainly marked, our stores clean and air-conditioned.

Every store has parking at the doorstep.

Our deliveries have been vastly improved these past few years.

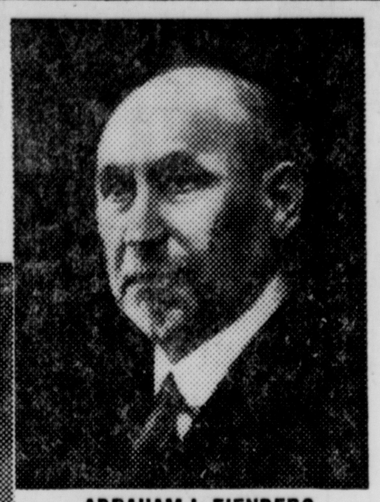

"No charge for credit" has saved our customers millions of dollars in finance charges.

And finally, furnishing your home is our only business; it's not just another department, it's our only way of life.

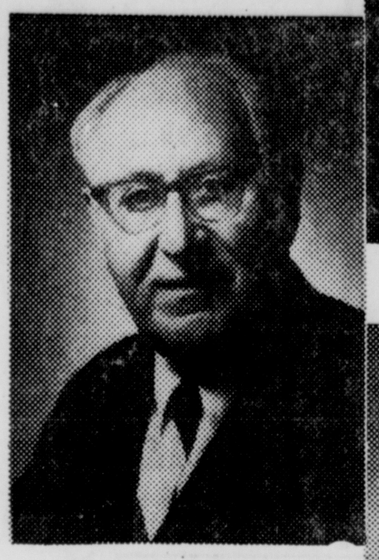

To celebrate this milestone we're going all out to make you as happy as we are. We have worked hard to bring you more special events, special values, a very special gift offer.

We're glad we've reached 70. We hope you will be too.

Request by Rhinebeck Teachers For Delay in School Budget Vote

By TIM SCHUSTER

RHINEBECK — A combination budget hearing and candidates night for the Rhinebeck school district Wednesday night was somewhat complicated by the current delayed impasse in faculty-board contract negotiations.

Board President Hans Boehm told the audience of about 70 persons that "money has been included in the budget which, in the opinion of the board, will be adequate" to meet the needs of teachers salaries.

He added that a similar situation two years ago proved the board right, and he said that if the sum is not adequate, the board will submit a complete new budget for public approval.

Richard Clare, Rhinebeck Teachers' Association president, issued a statement for the Association which said: "Since a state of impasse currently exists in our negotiations with the Board of Education, the Rhinebeck Teachers' Association requests your support in urging the Board to delay the submission of the annual school budget to the public until such time as an agreement has been reached.

"It is our position that the proposed budget could not possibly reflect a true picture of next year's expenditures since the contract with its teachers is still unresolved."

The budget is scheduled for a vote June 9.

Clare noted that the RTA was not urging people to vote against the budget, but instead for the board to postpone the vote.

Boehm stated that he thought it was a "smaller evil" to proceed with the voting so necessary purchases could be made for the district.

Clare later affirmed that the RTA did not receive a salary offer from the board until May 20 after negotiation since January. Boehm said that the board adopted the budget May 24.

In reviewing the budget, following a session in which both candidates for the board expressed their opinions, members of the board outlined the specific items which contributed to an increase of $290,494.82.

Since there are two vacancies to be open on the board, both Albert Vinck and Elinor Letsche will be successful in their bids.

The budget increase reflects a 14.8 total increase to $2,247,312.75. This constitutes about a seven per cent tax rate increase.

Some questions included asking about the cost of hiring a professional negotiatior at $50 an hour; the increased cost of BOCES services, up $32,000; the moneys allotted for teachers salary increases, which average about six per cent in the budget.

There will be an estimated 45 additional students in the system next year, and there will be no additional teachers.

The relative merits of maintaining the contract costs of the bus system and starting a school-run bus system were discussed at length when it was learned that the annual payments to the contractor will be increased from $113,000 to $187,000. The board is asking for permission to engage in another three-year contract.

Another question aimed at Boehm was, "What happened to the two proposed assistant principals recommended by Mr. Steeves?"

Boehm said that the board felt it could not "justify the additional expense," but would definitely look into it for next year.

Prior to the hearing, Boehm recounted some of the changes made over the past year. He noted that a professional negotiator was hired for the first time; the board has initiated legal action against the company which built Chancellor Livingston School because the roof still leaks; it has adopted a more liberal school lunch program to reach more youngsters; and has adopted a more liberal exemption policy for senior citizens.

BOCES Sets An Open House

KINGSTON — The Board of Cooperative Educational Services—Vocational Education Division announces the Business and Industrial Open House to be held at the Grand Street Center, Kingston, Tuesday, from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

The purpose of the open house is to enable business and industry of Ulster County to view the facilities in operation and to become acquainted with the kinds of learning activities which are taking place. An important objective of the BOCES Vocational Education Program is to furnish and develop skilled labor. The interest and support of business and industry is being sought.

Michael Aronica, director of vocational education, has extended an open invitation to all business and industrial leaders in the county to attend the open house.

Red Hook Board Candidates Answer Several Questions

RED HOOK — Three candidates for one Red Hook Board of Education seat spoke their minds and answered questions Wednesday night before a large crowd at the high school, exceeding 100 persons.

The program was co-sponsored by the Red Hook P-TA and The League of Women Voters.

Candidates are Mary Hoffman, William Taylor, and Susan Van Kleeck. A summary of their positions expressed could be expressed as "involvement" by Mrs. Hoffman; "a school district is a business" by Taylor; and "the educational process" by Mrs. Van Kleeck.

Remarks culled from Mrs. Hoffman include her assertion that the most important qualification for a board member is involvement. She said she doubted if any mother in the district had as much association with school matters as she had, noting she had fought for additions to the school plant and had been a "perennial room mother for 15 years."

She noted she had "seen teaching methods change, usually for the better, but not always." She said she had not missed an annual meeting in 25 years, and felt bad that there were sometimes more teachers than taxpayers.

She said that she could not promise results, as she would be only one of five board members and noted that "We are among the largest taxpayers in the district, and so are very interested" in keeping costs down.

Taylor, a manufacturing manager at Kingston IBM, categorized his impression of a good school board as a "group of businessmen," adding that a budget of well over $3 million required business supervision.

His key phrase was that a School Board should be run by "evolution rather than revolution," and he noted that it is "getting rare to read about academic problems" in schools in newspapers now.

Another comment by Taylor, in response to a question on his convictions on economy, was, "How can I get the most efficient use of my tax dollar?"

He expressed the opinion that many board meetings were "tied up on trivial problems" instead of major ones.

And he said he thought "liberal extremists should push from the audience, but should not sit on the School Board."

Mrs. Van Kleeck said her conception of the School Board is to make sure the schools teach children. The binary purpose is to be trustees of the educational well being of children and also the disbursers of public money.

She contended that a board member should thus be intimately acquainted with the educational process, and claimed that the present board was not directing itself to this end.

She noted that she had been attending board meetings regularly for the past two years and thinks it important that educational workable policies be devised and defined.

Her thoughts on economics were that "even the most careful financial management" cannot keep inflation from the door.

And, as a woman and mother, she noted, "As long as no woman is on the board, it is not truly representational."

New Lighting Plan Passed In Red Hook

RED HOOK — The Red Hook Town Board Wednesday night resolved to combine its five lighting districts into one, following a public hearing at which the public did not appear.

The five defunct lighting districts are College Park, Forest Park, Holt, Linden Acres, and Willow Park. They will become nonexistent Jan. 1, 1972.

The new district will be known as Red Hook Consolidated Lighting District.

Supervisor Warren Simmons said that the reason for consolidating was to eliminate paper work. Rates will not be affected in any appreciable degree, with some rising slightly and others lowering.

The plan was recommended by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., and "welcomed" by the Red Hook Town Board, according to Simmons.

No Blades

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) —A bill prohibiting the inclusion of razor blades in newspaper advertisements or any other form of unsolicited delivery has been passed 57-3 by the California Assembly.

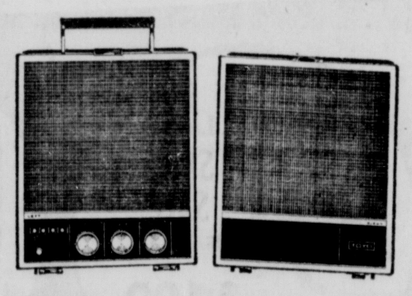

The measure was sent Wednesday to the Senate. Assemblyman Leroy Greene introduced the measure after newspapers throughout the nation recently carried advertisements containing razor blades.

Famed Pianist Scheduled For Ulster Academy Show

RHINEBECK — Henry L. Scott, the hilarious virtuoso of the piano who has made his home in Rhinebeck for a number of years, has consented to give a benefit concert for Ulster Academy, the independent school in Kingston now in its third year.

Scott will recreate his one-man Broadway show in the Kingston High School auditorium at 8:30 p.m., June 10.

In striving to prove to the public that music can be fun, Scott has become noted as a great American artist in the humerous concert field.

In addition, he is a master interpreter of Liszt and Chopin and a virtuoso when he reaches the jazz and rhumba numbers in his widely varied program.

He has appeared at Carnegie Hall, Town Hall, on Broadway, as soloist with symphonic orchestras, in concert halls, colleges and universities throughout the United States. His one-man show has been delightful for both the serious musician and the light-hearted listener.

Tickets for the benefit concert are $2 and may be obtained by contacting one of the members of the ticket committee of the Ulster Academy Parents' Association: Kingston Mrs. George Hutton; Red Hook Mrs. Balthus Van Kleeck; Rhinebeck; Mrs. Leslie Close, Mrs. Olga VandenBerg, or Mrs. W. D. Wilson; and Germantown, Mrs. Branson Erskine.

PLAN DINNER-DANCE — Members of Saugerties Republican Club Dinner Committee are making final plans for the annual dinner-dance to be held Saturday, June 12 at the Flamingo Restaurant. Reviewing the plans here are (L-R) Program Chairman Michael Catalinotto, Joseph Bruno and Charles Ascarino, ticket chairmen and Councilman Bernard Rinaldi, dinner co-chairman. Other general co-chairman is Councilman George Turner and arrangements chairman is Walter Johnson.

GOP Speaker Named

SAUGERTIES

State Senator Ronald B. Stafford will be the guest speaker at the annual spring dinner dance of Saugerties Republican Club. The announcement was made by Michael E. Catalinotto, program chairman for the dinner which will be held Saturday, June 12, at the Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties.

Once again it appears that the affair will be a sellout. Ticket co-chairmen Charles Oscarino and Joseph Bruno said that there are still some tickets available. They can be obtained from any member of the Saugerties Republican Club or the Town Republican Committee. Master of ceremonies will be Catalinotto.

Dinner co-chairmen Bernard Rinaldi and George Turner, both Town Councilmen, were pleased to have Senator Stafford as the guest speaker. The Senator, who is chairman of the important Senate Committee on Higher Education, is one of the bright young stars on the state Republican scene. His name is often mentioned as a possible candidate for statewide office on the Republican ticket, they observed.

Since 1965, Stafford has represented the 42nd Senatorial District which includes seven upstate counties and almost half of the geographic area of New York State. He is also a member of the Senate Committee on Codes, Conservation, Recreation, Corporations, Education, and Judiciary, among others. Stafford is a graduate of St. Lawrence University and Columbia University Law School and practices law in Plattsburgh.

Brogan — Jaycee Head

SAUGERTIES

William Brogan of Post Street, Saugerties, was elected president to lead the Saugerties Jaycee local through its 16th year.

As in past years, the elections were hotly contested with all contestants displaying posters, flashing signs, demonstration gimmicks, and of course campaign speeches.

Outgoing president John Lawrence reported that the Jaycee local ran 49 community involvement projects, and the membership level of the Saugerties Jaycees reached an all time high of 105 members.

Also reported was the result of competition in separate community involvement type areas. Saugerties garnered a first place for youth assistance, a second for community involvement, a third for governmental involvement, and a first place for project of the year, which was the July 4th Celebration.

The judging included 230 Jaycee locals across New York State. The Saugerties Jaycee local also ended up the year as the 21st out of those 230 in competitions.

Elected to the board of directors included Ned Steere, internal vice president; Robert Brandt, external vice president; William Warner, treasurer; Ron Willing, secretary; Robert Campbell, state director; Richard Lukes, Jerry O'Leary, Milan Paddock and Ed Pfeiffer, local directors. John Lawrence succeeds Robert Martin as chairman of the board.

The Jaycees meet the third Monday of every month at the Flamingo Restaurant at 7:30 p.m. Anyone having any questions may contact Brogan or Steere.

Nursery School Registration

SAUGERTIES

Registrations for the afternoon session of the Community Nursery School are now being accepted. The afternoon session will run from 12:15 to 2:45 p.m. each school day. The Nursery School follows the school calendar of the Saugerties Central School System.

A child must be three years of age by Sept. 1 of the school year to be eligible for enrollment. The proper immunizations must be completed before the school term begins. For further information and registration blanks, please contact Mrs. George A. Turner, at the Reformed Church of Saugerties, 173 Main Street, Saugerties.

The Community Nursery School was founded in Sept. 1966 by a group of interested parents, educators and members of the community. The Reformed Church of Saugerties sponsors the Community Nursery School. However, the school is a non-profit, non-sectarian school for children three to five years of age. The aim of the school is to provide an opportunity for children to develop their intellectual pctential, to learn to live succesfully with others, and to gain a greater understanding of the world about them. The school is a participating school where the parents share in the administration and assist the teacher during the daily sessions once every two weeks. For those parents unable to participate as they would like due to family responsibilities, a non-participating plan is available. A slightly higher tuition rate is paid by these parents in order that the school may engage an assistant to the teacher so that at least two adults are present at each school session.

Enrollment is limited to 20 pupils per class. Transportation is not provided, but car pools can be arranged.

The Community Nursery School is governed by a board of directors including Miss May Evans, chairman; Charles E. Fous, vice-chairman; Mrs. Turner Jr., secretary-treasurer; Mrs. LeRoy Donaldson, Mrs. Joseph Hemphill, Mrs. James Richards, Mrs. Judith Hammann R.N., Ronald Willing, Mrs. Michael Fagain and three parent members elected to serve on the board for the school year. The parent members presently serving are Mrs. M. William Hubler, Mrs. Ernest Fick and Mrs. George Turco.

County Planning Board Seminar

KINGSTON — A briefing on various forms of water, sewer, mobile home and open space division planning will be given to town planning and zoning board members, supervisors, mayors and interested town and county officials Wednesday, June 9 at the Holiday Inn in Kingston.

The seminar is being sponsored by the Ulster County Planning Board with registration scheduled for 9:30 a.m., a formal program to be conducted throughout the morning and a noon luncheon following which there will be a question and answer period.

The program will also afford planning board members from different communities in the county opportunity to get together and discuss problems of common interest, according o Herbert Hekler, director of he Ulster County Planning Board.

Hekler and Harry Edinger, Ulster County environmental sanitary engineer will speak on water and sewer plans for the county.

Two other presentations will be given by state planning officials, Sheldon Damsky, a lawyer, who will speak concerning legal problems in connection with open space subdivisions and mobile homes and Richard Boos, design expert, who will discuss the design aspects of such projects. Boos is a principal planner for the state.

Hekler stressed the importance of the regulation of mobile homes, saying, "It is almost criminal the way some trailer parks have been laid out in the county. There is no reason why they have to to be sloppy when they can be made attractive."

Legislators to Hear Fish

PLATTEKILL — Rep. Hamilton Fish, Jr. will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Ulster County Supervisors and Legislators Association dinner to be held at the Villa Nueva, Plattekill Tuesday, June 8.

Congressman Fish, who will speak on federal revenue sharing will leave Washington late Tuesday to attend the evening banquet and following the dinner will return immediately to Washington for Wednesday's legislative session.

Although Congressman Fish has been acting as part of a Presidential Congressional Task Force, presenting the President's Revenue Sharing plan to other parts of the country, this will be his first explanation of the proposal to a group of elected officials in the 28th Congressional District.

Congressman Fish, who has called Revenue Sharing "an idea whose time has come," in addition to the President's proposal will outline other suggested approaches to getting some share of the federal tax dollar back to hard pressed states and localities in his address.

Congressman Fish, who personally favors President Nixon's proposal, will also discuss other ideas being discussed in Congresss to achieve the same end of getting financial assistance back to state, county and local communities.

Session at Mohonk

NEW PALTZ — Mohonk Lake will be the scene of the annual meeting of the Federation of New York State Bird Clubs, Inc. The members of the John Burroughs Natural History Society will host this event which will take place June 4 through June 6.

Many interesting and varied field trips will be conducted each day, ranging from easy walks to mountain climbing. Birds and flowers will abound for those interested. A conservation meeting will be held Friday evening.

Saturday after the council meeting and paper session, a banquet will be held in the evening. Dr. Heinz Meng, a member of the John Burroughs Natural History Society, will be the speaker for this event. An expert in the art of falconry, he has trained many birds in this field and has just succeeded in breeding Peregrine Falcons in captivity. As many people may know this magnificent bird is on the verge of extinction.

Sunday a variety of field trips will be available.

Mohonk offers not only a variety of birds and habitat, but a natural history of an area preserved virtually untouched during the last one hundred years.

Rolison Champions Savings Bill

KINGSTON — Taxpayers and local municipalities would benefit from a bill passed by the State Senate recently. Sen. Jay P. Rolison, Jr. (R.-Dutchess, Ulster) carried the bill as the chief spokesman for the Republican Majority in the debate on the measure.

The bill would permit the State Mortgage Agency to buy general obligation bond issues of local governments and to pay for them by issuing its own bonds. The Mortgage bonds, because of a broader base, would sell for a lower interest rate than local bonds because they would be backed by a deversified pool of local bonds.

The savings of lower interest payments would be passed on to local governmental units and thus be a savings to taxpayers.

It is expected that these savings will amount to $1 million the first year and would eventually reach annual savings of $15 or $20 million.

In addition, by using early calling in of bonds, which many localities are unable to do, the State Mortgage Agency can effect significant savings to localities and taxpayers.

Commenting on the bill, Sen. Rolison stated, "We believe this legislation can save localities, who voluntarily participate, interest cost of about one half per cent per year. A similar plan in Vermont decreased interest rates by two-thirds of a per cent.

"In effect the state would pool local bond issues to gain the taxpayer savings," Rolison concluded.

Onteora Central School Board Approves Fact-Finder Recommendations on Contract

BOICEVILLE — Onteora Central School Board, after evaluation of the state's fact-finder's recommendations, have unanimously adopted a resolution on terms and conditions of employment for the coming school year which will reflect in salary increases for its professional staff of about 9 per cent depending upon experience and training.

The decision of the board was made following a recent public meeting held to discuss the fact-finder's recommendations. The School Board is currently negotiating with the Onteora Teachers Association on a work contract for the coming year.

The following articles in the proposed contract have been mutually agreed upon by the board and the negotiators for the Teachers Association:

The preamble, negotiations procedures, grievance procedure, teachers' hours and professional duties, assignments and transfers, vacancies and promotions, conference and travel allowance, professional facilities, short term leaves of absence, extended leaves, dues deduction, teacher evaluation and miscellaneous provisions.

The salary schedule was also adopted by the board and provides the following minimum and maximum salaries:

Those with bachelor degrees, $7,600 to $13,252; masters, $8,300 to $14,816; masters plus 30 graduate credit hours, $8,825 to $15,614 and masters plus 60 credit hours, $9,350 to $16,412.

The average increase to teaching staff members is $914, which represents a 9 per cent increase per staff member.

Also in the agreement is a schedule of extra pay for extra duties; provision for insurance and annuities and that a 10-man Class Size Committee be appointed, five teachers named by the Teachers Association, three administrators and two board member. This committee will make recommendations to the superintendent of schools regarding class size in the district.

The Board of Education desires to continue its formal contractural relationship with its teaching staff. Therefore, the superintendent of schools, Dr. Frank M. Marlow is hereby directed to offer for signing to the Onteora Teachers Association, a document in the form of a collectively negotiated agreement, that embodies the resolution hereby enacted.

Board Vice President Peter Rakov, presided at the session attended by many of the district's teachers. Rakov invited questions and/or statements from the audience regarding the resolution. However, none were presented by the public. The board subsequently voted to approve the resolution.

Teachers Association action is now necessary to make the agreement a legal document governing the terms and working conditions for the coming school year.

Mt. Etna's Eruption Ends

CATANIA, Sicily (AP) — Vulcanologists said today that Mt. Etna's latest eruption has ended after 58 days. Farmers and villagers began carting possessions back to the homes they abandoned.

It was the huge volcano's fourth worst eruption in three centuries.

Villagers returned to damaged homes evacuated on the northern edge of the mountainside crossroads village of Fornazzo. Streams of molten rock narrowly missed striking the entire village.

Many residents are starting from scratch. Their orchards and vineyards have been burned and their croplands are buried under cooling lava.

States of emergency were lifted in Fornazzo and nearby Sant'Alfio.

Experts estimated that Etna poured out 140 million cubic yards of lava since April 5, making the fourth greatest eruption since 1669 when lava from the volcano destroyed the city of Catania.

Nuptial Vows Announced

MRS ZENON CHRISTOFOROU
(Fitzgerald photo)

Miss Margaret Constantinou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Constantinou, 130 Savoy Street, Kingston, became the bride of Zenon Christoforou, 23-61 36th Street, Astoria, L.I., son of Mr. and Mrs. Christoforou of Cyrpus, on May 23 in St. George Greek Orthodox Church. The Rev. Nicholas Katsoulis officiated at the single ring ceremony and Jimmy Kakoullis provided traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a full skirted gown of silk organza with a chapel length train. The bodice and long sleeves were appliqued with peau de'ange lace motifs. Her matching lace stylized headpiece held her two tier veil and a full length lace edged mantilla. The bride carried a cascade of white carnations and pink roses.

Mrs. Joanne Millouras of Kingston, served as matron of honor for her sister. She wore an empire gown of lavender chiffon, fashioned with a ring neckline and bishop sleeves. The bodice of the gown had Venise lace over chiffon and softly gathered skirt had a satin bow accenting the waistline. Her stylized headpiece of daisies held her four tier veil and she carried a cascade of white, blue and lavender carnations, trimmed with lavender ribbon.

Attendants were Elaine Loukas, Evy Georgiow and Joanne Themistocles, cousin of the bride, all of Kingston. Elizabeth Constantinou and Martha Constantinou, sisters of the bride, served as junior bridesmaids, and Stella Zenon, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. They were attired in blue gowns and headpieces identical in style to that of the honor attendant. The bridesmaids carried cascades of white and blue carnations with blue ribbons and the flower girl carried a basket of blue and pink carnations.

H. Fete Antoniou, 86-06 Kennedy Boulevard, North Bergen, N.J., was best man. Ushers were Harris Haralambous, John Georgepoulos, both of Astoria; and Gus Constantinou, brother of the bride, Kingston. Zenon Zenon, cousin of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

A reception for 150 guests was given in the Walnut Grove, Kingston.

The bride selected a green and white pantsuit for traveling to Bermuda.

Mrs. Christoforou is a 1969 graduate of Kingston High School and attended Ulster County Community College. Her husband, who served two years with the Cyprus Army, is part-owner of a diner in Brooklyn.

The couple will make their home at Astoria, L. I.

Sweet Adelines Attend Competition in Mass.

The Colonial City Chapter of Sweet Adelines recently returned from the 19th Annual Chorus and Quartet competition held in Chicopee, Mass. Theme for the weekend was "Chicopee Chant" with the hostess chapter wearing Indian dress. The lobby of the Inn was decorated in tepee fashion with a huge totem pole and an Indian mannequin.

Moments of fun were provided when the mannequin mysteriously disappeared and a ransom note was delivered to the hostesses demanding wampum, tobacco, and the chairman of the convention in exchange for its return.

Winners of the Chorus Competition were the members of the Marlboro, Mass., Chapter, who are also celebrating their 25th year as Sweet Adelines.

"The Musical Cheres" were named Regional Quartet Champions. The panel of eight judges traveled far to perform the difficult task of rating choruses, Some came from as far as California and Texas.

The Colonial City Chapter returned to Kingston with many ideas for costuming, choreography and music.

The chorus recently performed for the Woodstock Republican Club's annual dinner in Deanies, Woodstock. Mrs. Martin Keller of Kingston is in charge of arrangements for appearances of the group and may be contacted for detailed information.

Membership in Sweet Adelines is open to all women who enjoy singing. Music is arranged in four-part harmony. Especially welcome are women who can sing the lower registers. It is not necessary to read music.

Among those recently welcomed into membership were Kitty White, Joan Kelly, Betty Keller, Mary Tomaseski, Marcia Mogel and Ruth Halbohm.

Meetings are held each Tuesday at 8 p.m. in St. James Methodist Church. Prospective members are always welcome.

Invitation to Church Weddings

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
© 1971, by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: A co-worker sent all of us girls who work with her an invitation to her wedding. But it was only an invitation to come to the church and watch her get married. There wasn't a clue as to where the reception was to be held, so I asked her. She told me that her parents were a little low on funds, so there would be a big wedding at the church, and a very small reception afterwards for relatives and a very few close friends.

All of us girls who work with this girl got together and gave her a gift. I wonder if you think it is right to invite people to a wedding and not to any kind of a reception afterward? I think it is a lot of nerve to expect guests to be satisfied to just come to a church and watch a bride walk down an aisle, especially after accepting a wedding gift. What is your opinion?

GYPPED

DEAR GYPPED: It's my opinion that the only reason a gift is given is because the giver wants to give it. Since you feel gypped, in the future don't give anything until you've collected whatever it was you expected to receive in exchange. That way you'll be sure to get your money's worth.

DEAR ABBY: Can a person be a kleptomaniac without realizing it? At the place I recently started working, a certain party mentioned that she had misplaced her favorite pen. We searched and searched and couldn't find it. When I got home that evening I found a strange pen in my purse. The next day I asked the person who had lost it if that was her pen and she said it was. I was terribly embarrassed. I don't remember ever having seen that pen before, and I certainly can't remember having put it in my purse.

That's not all. A few days later someone else in the office misplaced a very pretty little desk calendar, and I found that in my purse, too! Abby, I don't steal. Is someone playing a joke on me? Or can I be a kleptomaniac?

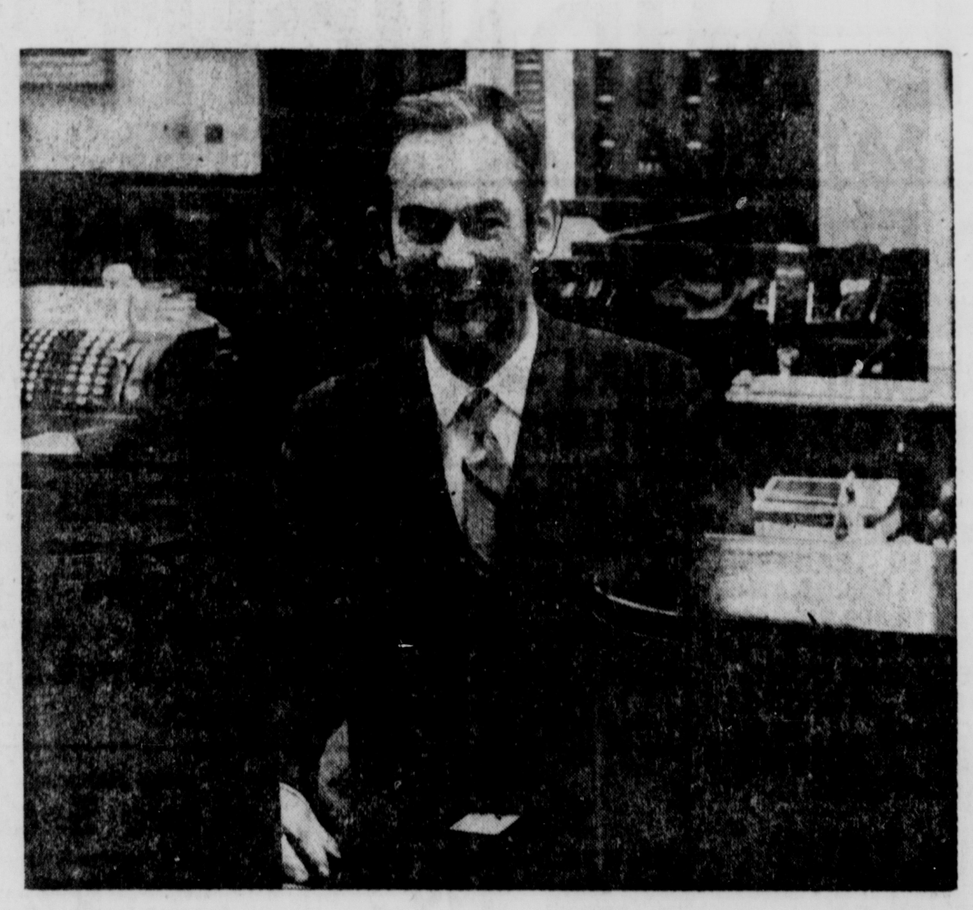

BAFFLED

DEAR BAFFLED: A "Kleptomaniac" steals compulsively — but not unconsciously. Either you absent-mindedly put those items in your purse, or someone has planted them there. Suggestion: Put a mousetrap in your purse (but don't forget it's there!)

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

$18,000 for Kingston Hospital

The Kingston Hospital Auxiliary presented a check in the amount of $18,000 to Hospital Administrator Anthony Triulzi at its annual meeting and luncheon Tuesday in Williams Lake Hotel and further highlighted the afternoon by re-electing Mrs. George C. Rifenbary president for 1971-72 and issuing Certificates of Recognition to 14 members each of whom have volunteered 40 years of service to the organization.

The sizable contribution was raised by the 500-member Auxiliary throughout the year and is another payment on a pledge of $82,000 to furnish equipment for the hospital's Cardiac Catherization Diagnostic Laboratory.

Mrs. Rifenbary accepted the presidency with gratitude for the support she had received and expressed confidence in the Auxiliary's continuing success in the coming year.

In a statement to The Freeman Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Rifenbary acknowledged the achievements that had transpired during her term of office. "Never have I seen such dedicated cooperation. Each committee gave its utmost. Every fund raising event surpassed any previously encountered and the conscientious committee chairmen outdid themselves in every undertaking. Particularly rewarding was the interest taken in outlying areas — West Hurley, Woodstock, Saugerties, Rosendale, Ulster Park and small villages across the river. We are truly a community hospital and shall continue to encourage women from these areas to join our ranks."

Mrs. Rifenbary payed particular compliments to Administrator Triulzi; President of the Board of Directors, Wilbur Peters; hospital personnel; and Mrs. Karl Pitcock, director of volunteers.

She also paid tribute to the 15 members of the Auxiliary who have donated 40 years of service. Of these members, Mrs. Joseph DuMond, Mrs. Abram Handler and Mrs. Harold F. King still retain membership. Letters of appreciation and floral remembrances were sent to each.

Mrs. Rifenbary is no stranger to the Auxiliary. She served as president in 1955, as a member of the Board, historian and has held every office and committee chairmanship over the past 23 years. A native of Illinois, Mrs. Rifenbary is a graduate of Holy Child Academy for Girls, Waukegan, and of DePaul University in Chicago. Prior to her marriage, she was a secretary at the U.S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Married in October 1945 to Dr. George Clarke Rifenbary, a Kingston native son and prominent dentist sportsman, they took up local residence in 1946. Dr. Rifenbary died suddenly in June, 1968.

Mrs. Rifenbary's interests have been wide and varied. In 1959 she received a Citation for Community Service from the Kingston Area Community Chest, was Women's Co-chairman and board member in the early formative years and served as a member of the board for the American Red Cross. She has also held board memberships for the Children's Rehabilitation Cen-Center, Home for the Aged, and has served the American Cancer Society, Heart Fund campaigns as well as in Parent-Teacher Associations.

An enthusiastic sportswoman, Mrs. Rifenbary was instrumental in forming a county championship golf tournament in 1959 in conjunction with the Babe Didrickson Zaharias Memorial Cancer Fund. Working under the guidance of Charles J. Tiano, Freeman Sports Editor, this resulted in the organization of the Ulster County Women's Golf Association. Mrs. Rifenbary was its first president.

MRS. GEORGE RIFENBARY

She also headed and was the driving force behind the annual Sylvia Voss Memorial Golf classic, which is staged each year at the Wiltwyck Country Club, and was Women's Golf Champion at Wiltwyck in 1958 and 1960. Mrs. Rifenbary also served as chairman of the Women's Division, pool chairman, and with her husband, won the Husband-Wife Championship Trophy.

Acutely aware of desirable competitive sports for the young, she was instrumental in forming the first Wiltwyck Country Club swimming team and was its acting coach. She has been serving on the pool committee and in an advisory capacity for the past 10 years. She is now Wiltwyck's representative to the Adirondack District of the AAU and is the only New York State certified woman swimming official in the Kingston area.

An avid skiier, Mrs. Rifenbary was one of the early members of the Trailsweepers Ski Club, helped to get Varsity Ski Team recognition given to Kingston High School participants. In 1967 this became a reality. Because of her continued interest, a monetary award is given to a deserving Kingston High School Varsity Team Skier in her husband's memory at the Annual Awards Assembly.

Mrs. Rifenbary, who resides on Flower Hill in Kingston, is the mother of two children: Miss Deborah Clarke Rifenbary, a recent graduate of Rosemont College, Rosemont, Pa., who will continue graduate studies at Fairleigh Dickinson University commencing June 7, and Jay Clarke Rifenbary, an eighth grader at J. Watson Bailey Junior High School.

Mrs. Rifenbary, a communicant of St. Joseph's Church in Kingston, is the daughter of Mrs. William M. Carroll of Woodstock, Ill., and step-daughter of Judge Carroll, former Chief Justice of the Appellate Division of the State of Illinois and still presiding Judge of the 29th Circuit District.

BUDDY POPPY QUEEN — A new Buddy Poppy Queen was crowned to serve in 1972. She is Susan Noble, second from left. With her are (L-R) Mrs. Sidney Lane, president of Joyce-Schirick Auxiliary 1386, VFW; Susan Gromoll, 1971 Buddy Poppy Queen; Diane Rappleyea, Grand Prize winner; and Mrs. Harry Rappleyea, Poppy chairman. The crowning took place recently in the VFW hall on Delaware Avenue. The party was given for members of the Junior Unit 1386 who participated in the recent successful sale of Buddy Poppies. For the past five years, the Unit has assisted the Auxiliary in the sale and a queen is chosen on the basis of total sales. A girl who has once been queen is not eligible to serve a second time in which case the award is given to the girl who has collected the second largest amount. First prize of a $25 U. S. All's Well in New York, But Not for Eddie Kasko

Yankees Sock Sox — Mets Frustrate Giants

(By UPI)

All's well in the New York City sports world today.

The Yankees ended Sonny Siebert's 11-game winning streak, 6-1, Wednesday and the effects were more than Boston manager Ediie Kasko could handle.

Rookie right hander Charlie Williams gained his first big league victory with five innings of shutout relief and Tommy Agee drove in the winning run with a seventh-inning double as the New York Mets defeated the frustrated San Fancisco Giants, 5-2.

Not only did the Yankees succeed in handing Siebert his first loss since last season, but they sent the Red Sox reeling to their fifth successive loss, prompting the usually mild-mannered Kasko to hold a closed door meeting after the game where he promptly chewed out his players.

"There's too much feeling sorry and too much head-hanging on this club," Kasko told reporters. 'You're going to hit streaks like this and the only way to get out of them is to fight your way out. You don't see this on winners. This is the first time I've had an immediate outburst after the game. I hope it will jack them up."

The Red Sox, who have not won since they defeated Oakland's sensational Vida Blue last Friday, were held to only six hits by Stan Bahnsen and did not score until two were out in the ninth.

Bobby Murcer shared the spotlight with Bahnsen, as he homered twice and made a spectacular shoestring catch off Rico Petrocellin in the first inning to rob Boston of a run. Siebert, who had won nine in a row this season, was tagged for five hits and four runs in five innings.

The 23-year-old Williams, who lost 35 pounds in order to win a spot on the New York staff, struck out five, walked two and gave up only two hits as he evened his record at 1-1.

Juan Marichal, unbeaten since April 25, was touched for nine hits and all five New York runs and he suffered his third loss compared to eight victories.

The Mets, down 2-0, tied the score in the sixth on singles by Agee, Bud Harrelson and Ed Kranepool, a wild pitch and Ken Boswell's sacrifice fly. They went ahead in the seventh on the first of two singles by Duffy Dyer, a sacrifice by Williams and Agee's double.

Art Shamsky hit his second homer of the season in the eighth and after Kranepool singled, Steve Hamilton replaced Marichal. Kranepool then scored two outs later on Dyer's second single.

Singles by Bobby Bonds and Dick Dietz, a walk to Willie Mays and a sacrifice fly by Tito Fuentes gave the Giants their first run in the first. They scored their other run in the second on singles by newcomer Bernie Williams, Jimmy Rosario and Chris Speier.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Baltimore Orioles pecked their way to a 3-2 12-inning victory over the Chicago White Sox and regained first place in the American League.

Paul Blair scored the winning run on a bases-loaded wild pitch by Terry Forster in the 12th, after dodging a tag by third baseman Bill Melton to reach third on Dave Johnson's one-out grounder.

The victory, coupled with Boston's 6-1 loss to the Yankees, sent Baltimore into the division lead for the first time since April 29 — with a margin of four percentage points over the skidding Red Sox.

Detroit Tigers nipped Minnesota, 5-4, after building a 5-1 lead and choking off a Twins rally after three runs in the eighth to climb with 2½ games of the East Division lead. Fred Scherman relieved winner Joe Coleman and snuffed out the eighth inning rally. Dick McAuliffe homered for the Tigers.

California edged Washington, 2-1, in a rain-shortened game. Clydewight checked Washington on four hits and drove in the deciding run with a second inning single off Denny McLain. Rain halted the game in the eighth. McLain, 4-9, has lost four in a row and six of his last seven starts.

Cleveland's Sam McDowell won his fourth straight for a 5-5 mark, but needed ninth inning relief help as the Cleveland Indians beat Milwaukee, 4-2, with a flurry of three unearned runs in the third.

McDowell, who gve up five hits, struck out eight and walked six.

In other National League games, Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from the Cincinnati Reds, 6-3 and 4-1; Pittsburgh routed St. Louis, 10-1; Los Angeles whipped Montreal 7-1; San Diego shut out Philadelphia 6-0 and Atlanta beat Houston 3-1.

A couple of "old faithfuls" may be helping Old Leo keep his job. Ernie Banks, the 40-year-old "Mr. Cub" and Billy Williams, who'll be 34 in a couple of weeks, crashed three-run homers in the sweep.

Banks hit his first homer of the season and 510th of his career in the seventh inning of the first game to break a 2-2 tie to give Bill Hands his fifth win against seven losses.

Williams, the Iron Man of the Cubs, broke a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning of the second game when he hit his 13th homer of the season off reliever Wayne Granger.

The double triumphs may have been a tonic in saving Manager Leo Durocher his job. Chicago had lost nine of its last 11 games before rebounding against Cincinnati and Durocher's job was reportedly in jeopardy.

Dave Cash ignited scoring rallies with a double and triple and Bob Veale turned in three scoreless innings of relief as red-hot Pittsburgh walloped St. Louis.

Cash, who had three hits, doubled to start a four-run fourth and tripled to key a three-run seventh as the Pirates coasted to their fifth straight victory and moved to within a half game of the first place Cardinals in NL East.

Willie Davis' RBI single and a two-run double by Richie Allen sparked a five-run third inning rally that lifted the Dodgers past Montreal. Davis' run scoring hit, following singles by Maury Wills and Willie Crawford, stretched his hitting streak to 25 games, longest in the majors at present.

Home runs by Nate Colbert and Ivan Murrell backed the 5-hit pitching of Steve Arlin and helped San Diego down the Phillies. The victory was Arlin's second of the season and third in the majors and all three have been shutouts.

Hal King's two-run homer in the seventh inning boosted the Braves over Houston and snapped a five-game losing streak.

With the score tied at 1-1, King, who was robbed of a homer by Cesar Cedeno his previous time at bat, homered with Darrell Evans on base to gain Ron Reed his sixth victory in nine decisions.

Assembly KO's Sunday Racing

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Attempts to seriously change New York State's offtrack betting law have apparently failed in the 1971 legislature.

The Assembly Wednesday defeated two bills to expand the Offtrack Betting Commission's powers and allow harness racing on Sunday.

Sponsors of the legislation said the defeats indicated a "growing unwillingness" on the part of lawmakers to approve any changes in the law approved a year ago legalizing offtrack bets on horse races.

The first bill rejected would have allowed the state commission to set up computer operations for localities to lease in running upstate offtrack betting.

The bill was withdrawn by Assemblyman Donald Shoemaker, R-Rochester, however, when the rollcall went overwhelmingly against it. Numerous lawmakers challenged what the computer set-ups, a provision requested by the offtrack commission, would cost.

The second bill would have expanded harness racing, if approved by the State Harness Racing Commission, to include any day but Christmas.

As the bill was drawn, it only would have affected Monticello, Saratoga, Batavia, and Vernon Downs harness tracks.

The bill lost, 64-81.

Later, Shoemaker predicted the harness tracks' proposal to be allowed to run offtrack betting upstate would not get out of the stable this year.

"There's just no acceptance of the idea of dividing the state up into zones, as they want," Shoemaker said.

"The communities want to be free to go where ever they can."

PGA Puts Hill on One-Year Probation

ATLANA, Ga. (AP) — It was a subdued Dave Hill, burdened with a one-year probation and facing an uncertain playing career, who set out today in the first round of the $125,000 Atlanta Golf Classic.

"I'm tired of being the bad guy in the black hat," quipped the volatile Hill. "This week I'm wearing a white hat. Rode up on a white charger and I've got him parked right outside."

The 34-year-old Hill was slapped with the probation for "conduct unbecoming a professional golfer" in his second round of the Colonial National Invitation Tournament in Fort Worth, Tex. two weeks ago.

Hill, playing poorly that day, threw a ball out of a sand trap on the 18th hole and purposely signed an incorrect scorecard. He was disqualified on the spot and later fined $500.

Hill, the storm center of several major controversies in recent years, paid the fine and followed up with a $1 million damage suit against the Tournament Players Division and the Professional Golfers Association. The suit, the first of its kind against the two golf groups, is pending in federal district court in Memphis, Tenn.

The suit, among other things, charged the PGA and the TPD with violation of Hill's civil rights, violation of his right of free speech and violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

The suspension was handed down by the Policy Board of the Tournament Players Division and does not prohibit Hill from playing.

But, "In the event of further infraction of Tournament Rules and Regulations, during the probationary period, Mr. Hill will be subject to suspension from TPD competition and termination of TPD membership," a prepared statement issued by TPD Commissioner Joe Dey said.

That would prohibit Hill from playing. It's happened before "three or four times, I forget which," Hill said. "But this is the first time I've ever been on probation. I wonder who I have to report to."

Hill, an intense, highly-charged man, is a tough, wiry, darkly-handsome native of Jackson, Mich. He's won almost one-half million dollars in his dozen years on the pro tour and picked up eight titles.

His best year was 1969 when he won $156,000 and three tournaments, copped the coveted Vardon Trophy for the best stroke average on the tour and was named to the Ryder Cup team.

Hill, who hasn't won but has four finishes in the top 10 this year, was one of the key figures in the 150 man field that began competition today on the hilly, 6,833-yard, par-72 Atlanta Country Club course.

Froehling Upsets Ashe

PARIS (UPI)—Frank Froehling, returning to the international circuit after a five-year absence, upset second-seeded Arthur Ashe of Gum Springs, Va., in a three-hour marathon, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, 3-6, 8-6, Wednesday to gain the semifinals of the $100,000 French Open Tennis championships.

It was a magnificent duel of tactics between the two players as every point was desperately fought for. The outcome was always delicately balanced between Froehling's power and Ashe's delicate strokes.

"That was the most fantastic experience I've ever had in tennis," said Froehling, who lives in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. "Even when I was playing (in the '60s) I never dreamed of getting into the semis of the French."

Joining Froehling in the semifinals was fourth-seeded Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia, a 6-4, 4-6, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4 victor over Frenchman Pierre Barthes.

Nancy Richey Gunter of San Angelo, Tex., gained the semifinals of the women's singles by beating Lesley Bowrey of Australia, 6-2, 6-4.

Froehling dictated the first set by changing pace cleverly and forcing Ashe into errors. The lanky Floridian looked wider than a barn door at the net and Ashe could find no way past him.

Open at Beacon on June 12

Braves Set Practice

KINGSTON Manager Bernie Schaeffer of the Kingston Braves has issued a call for practice and tryouts for the defending champions of the Hudson Valley Rookie Baseball League.

The first session is scheduled Friday at 8 p.m., the second on Monday at 8 p.m. Both workouts will be held at Dietz Stadium.

The Braves, who won the regular season and playoff titles in the 1970 Rookie circuit, open their league season Saturday, June 12, at Beacon and the next day at Middletown. The league is now up to 12 teams for the first time in many years and will operate with two divisions of six teams each.

"We expect to have most of our regulars from 1970 at the practices," said Manager Schaeffer, "but our team is wide open. I would especially like to see all college and high school players in the county come out for the team."

One of Schaeffer's top collegians last season was Pete Watzka of Cornell. Watzka, a former third baseman-pitcher for the Big Red, was switched to the outfield this season and made All-Eastern Intercollegiate.

The Braves' two top pitching operators were Ron Thomas, who put together a perfect game and finished with a 0.00 earned run average, and Buster Narum, former major hurler who was the workhorse of the staff and had an ERA of less than one run per game.

Schaeffer said the Braves would play a series of exhibitions against the best road attractions available in addition to an intensive league schedule.

"There will be plenty of baseball around Dietz Stadium this season," he said, "and we'll carry a good-sized squad."

Ali-Ellis Bout July 26

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jimmy Ellis gets his chance to withdraw from the shadow of Muhammad Ali when they meet in a multi-million dollar "grudge" fight July 26 at the Astrodome in Houston.

The two ex-heavyweight champions signed Wednesday for a 12-round bout, with the winner expected to be Joe Frazier's next title opponent.

Ellis, who could barely interject his comments as Ali took charge of the press conference, said the fight would be "the highlight of my career. Ali says he is the greatest. I'll show him and the whole world I can beat him. I can't out talk him, but I can outfight him.'

While Ali was climbing the ladder toward success, Ellis was in the sparring ring preparing the articulate Ali for his fights. There was a seriousness about Ellis as he refused to play the punching bag during these training sessions and floored Ali several times.

Top Rank Inc., a promoter of the upcoming bout with Astrodome Championship Enterprises, Inc., is playing on this facet of their past relationship to hypo the live gate and the closed-circuit television revenue.

They are prepared to give Ali 45 per cent of all income against a minimum guarantee of $450,000. Ellis will receive 20 per cent of all income.

Bob Arum, president of Top Rank, actually estimates the gross at $5-6 million and on this basis Ali will receive $1.8 million and Ellis $800,000. The fight is scaled to do $1.2 million if there is a sellout at the Astrodome. Ringside seats will go for $75.00, field boxes and mezzanine seats at $25.00, grand stand tickets at $10.00 and 10,000 special "Ali seats" for $5.00 each.

Stagedoor Johnny's Feat May Inspire Purse Finder

NEW YORK (AP) — Back in 1968 Stagedoor Johnny won his first race about a month before he won the Belmont Stakes. Saturday, Purse Finder will try for a similar achievement at the loss of the Triple Crown for Canonero II.

"He is getting better every day," Trainer Jimmy Conway said Wednesday of Purse Finder, who won the first race of his 8-race career May 12, just three days before Canonero II added the Preakness victory to his win in the Kentucky Derby.

The race that shot Purse Finder, owned by Anthony Imbesi, into the Belmont was last Friday's Peter Pan Purse in which he came from off the pace to smash Mrs. Taylor Hardin's Solo Mio, another Belmont candidate, by nine lengths at the end of 1⅛ mile.

Blinkers have helped turn the Maribeau colt into a winner, and although he might not have the racing experience of some of his Belmont rivals, Conway is optimistic about his chances in the $125,000-added 14 mile classic.

Canonero II and probably eight other 3-year-olds will be entered Friday morning for the Belmont, which is scheduled to go off at 5:35 p.m. EDT Saturday. Television coverage will be from 5-6 p.m. and radio coverage from 5:25-5:45 p.m., both by CBS.

Trainer Juan Arias and jockey Gustavo Avila both expressed satisfaction Wednesday after Canonera II worked ⅝ mile on the Belmont main track in 1:04. Although this is generally considered a slow move, it was faster than Canonero II's final work out at the same distance for the Derby and the Preakness.

Besides Purse Finder and Solo Mio, Canonero II's other likely opponents in his bid to become racing's ninth Triple Crown winner and first since Citation in 1948 are the Johnny Campo-trained pair of Neil Hellman's Good Behaving and Frank J. Caldwell's Jim French, Mr. & Mrs. Harry Lunger's Salem, William A. Levitt's Bold Reason, Mrs. Ethyl D. Jacobs' Epic Journey and Tartan Stable's Highbinder.

Good Behaving, a triple stakes winner who missed the Derby and the Preakness, was supplemented for the Belmont Wednesday for $5,000. He will be the only supplemental nominee in the race.

Marco Tiano Fans 18 In Town of Ulster LL

KINGSTON Marco Tiano of the Lincoln Park Inn Giants of the Town of Ulster Little League and Matt Suppies of the Jaycees Little League Crows turned in brilliant pitching performances this week.

Tiano faced only 21 batters and got the maximum number of strikeouts in six innings (18), as the Giants blanked the Lions Club Indians, 17-0. The fireballing right hander allowed one hit — a fifth inning single by Rod Zickler — and walked two batters.

Tiano, who pitched a perfect six-inning contest with 18 strikes in a row in the Town of Ulster Minor League two years ago, fanned seven in a row at one stage, then struck out the final nine batters of the contest.

John Acker and Scott Burnett had single-double combinations for the Giants. Acker knocked in three runs for the winners. Roy Olsen had four RBIs with two singles for the Giants.

Suppies held the Owls hitless in the Jaycee loop, but errors and walks accounted for two runs, as the Crows rolled to a 13-2 victory. He struck out 14 and walked two and blasted a two-run homer.

Greg Stoutenberg stroked two doubles and knocked in three runs for the Crows. Kevin Jordan allowed seven hits and fanned 10.

Battle of Saugerties Unbeatens

Stokes Blanks Wolven, 2 to 0

League Standing	Won	Lost
Paul's Shell	3	0
C&S Shoe Company	2	1
Glasco A.C.	1	2
Buono-McConekey	0	3

Billy Stokes of Paul's Shell and Mouse Wolven of C&S Shoe Company hooked up in a battle of unbeaten teams and pitchers in the fast pitch division of the Saugerties Softball League.

When the final putout had been registered, Stokes prevailed, 2-0, on a brilliant 2-hitter and Paul's were alone atop the league standings with a 3-0 record. Stokes struck out seven. Paul's collected seven hits off Wolven and scored their game winning tallies in a somewhat less than thunderous two-run rally in the first inning. The rally consisted of a walk, Stokes' bunt single, Tim Bowans' RBI single and Dick Miller's run producing single.

Stokes, now 3-0, had two singles and Bowens singled and doubled for the winners. Bill Hanna and Al Short accounted for C&S safeties.

In the other game, Frank Allen unfurled a 5-hitter, as Glasco Atheltic Club drubbed Buono-McConekey Funeral Home. Allen, who picked up his first win after two losses, homered and doubled and knocked in two Glasco runs. Leroy Lasher slammed three singles. Bill Whitney tripled for the losers.

Gene Palladino (0-3) took the loss.

Dinky Dugan Unloads Three Homers In CSPL

KINGSTON — Home run production tapered off somewhat at Block Park, but not for Dinky Dugan, the right fielder and leadoff hitter for Bud's Submarine.

Dugan slammed three home runs in four trips to the plate to pace the Submarines to a 6-4 victory over Gov. Clinton Market in National Division B of the City Slow Pitch League. Earl Edmonds also stroked a homer for Bud's. Don Smith led the Clintons with a single-double.

In other action, Anchorage stopped Tony's, 10-4; Uhl Construction outlasted Born Losers, 11-9; and Village Jug scored all their runs in the top of the seventh to nip The Alpine, 7-6.

A pair of triples by Dan Vogt and George Brown's homer sparked the Anchorage attack. Ron Secreto slammed four singles and Joe Schabot had a double and single for Tony's.

Butch Zollo homered and added two singles for Uhl Construction. Tony Causi had a double-single and Bob Gorsline, a single-triple. Gary Chambers stroked three singles and Steve Bruno had a single and triple.

Rick Lewis and John Mowers had three singles apiece for Vilage Jug. Don Wells singled and doubled for the Alpine.

Dulin Hits Top Brown

KINGSTON — Richard Dulin, a resident of Kingston and employee of IBM, was one of the April winners of the monthly Genesee Fishing Contest.

Dulin's entry, a seven-pound, 12-ounce brown trout, was taken from the Pepacton Reservoir in Margaretville. He also entered the 29-inch fish in a local contest at Numrich Arms, West Hurley, and took first prize in that.

"I was fishing with my son, my brother-in-law and a cousin," said Dulin. "And, I was using live bait, a minnow. That's the best bait you can use for April. The trout was the biggest fish I ever hooked and I had never entered the contest before," he stated.

Dulin concluded by saying that Genessee runs a yearly contest and seven of the 10 winners for the State come from fish taken from the Pepacton.

Other April winners included: Ben Cowan, Elmira, 12 lb., 5-ounce rainbow trout; George Ochsen, Cornwall, 5 lb., 12 oz. brook trout; Ken Wiedigie, Utica, 17 lb., 8¾ oz. lake trout; Dick Sandow, Rochester, 12 lb. 8 oz. walleye pike; Mary Sue Dunn, Rome, 1 lb. 7¼ oz. rock bass; Jim Murawski, Buffalo, 3 lb. yellow perch.

Ex-Onteora High Ace

Mercer Ace Hurler With Ithaca JVs

ITHACA — Ed Mercer, former star athlete at Onteora High School in Boiceville, made quite a hit on the campus of Ithaca College this year.

Mercer, a freshman, posted a 3-1 pitching record for the Ithaca Jayvees. He had three complete games in four starts, compiled a brilliant earned run average of 2.05, struck out 35 and walked 19 in 33⅓ innings pitched.

The young hurler's high point of the season was a seven-inning no-hitter against Brockport. He was named "Athlete of the Week" for his no-hit performance. The Jayvees were 5-3 overall, including wins over Cornell and Colgate.

"If he can continue to improve as he did this spring," said varsity coach Carp Wood, "Ed should be a big help to the varsity next year. The competition will be tougher, of course, but he has all the tools to match it. I'd rate him as a real good prospect," concluded the varsity mentor.

Mercer will team with senior All-American Paul Patterson and sophomore Craig Paterniti, giving Ithaca its deepest pitching staff in recent years.

That's saying something when you figure the Ithacans have posted 38 winning seasons in 39 years of competition, a 77.8 winning percentage during that time and eight NCAA tournament appearances.

Mercer plans to play a lot of summer ball and keep in shape for next season. The former Onteora star was a Daily Freeman selection to the All-County basketball and baseball teams. He also pitched for the Kingston Braves, last year's Hudson Valley Rookie League champions and was also a standout performer in the City Baseball League.

Middies Winners

KINGSTON — Middletown High School's tennis team handed host Kingston its third loss of the season against 13 wins by the score of 4-1 Tuesday. The Middies finished with a string of 30 straight dual victories, dating back to 1970 and have an 18-0 record for this season.

Middletown's tennis team has lost only twice in 10 years and has won every DUSO League crown during that time period.

Pete Boyd posted the only victory for Kingston, an impressive, 10-5 win over Keith Kaback. It was only the third time in Kaback's high school career that he has lost a singles event.

Boyd took a quick lead with well-placed lobs and passing shots. Kaback couldn't get started against the Maroon ace and wasn't able to mount his characteristic come-from-behind style of attack.

In second singles, Kingston's Jim Corsones extended Section Nine champion Sam Markovits before losing 10-7. Bob Lake Jr. then defeated Robby Kline, 10-3, in the third singles slot.

In doubles play, Kaback and Markovits teamed to defeat Boyd-Corsones, 10-5. The Lake Brothers, Ed and Bob, finished up by beating Kline and Pete Fowler, 10-1.

Boyd, Corsones and Kline will travel to White Plains Friday to take part in the Regional event.

Mrs. Groppuso Leads All-Irons

KINGSTON — Mrs. Michael Groppuso fired a net 92-17-75 to win first place by one stroke in the All-Irons tournament for The Twaalfskill Club women. Runnerup with a 110-34-76 net was Mrs. William Merrill Jr.

Other leaders included Mrs. Burton Davis, 106-23-83; Mrs. Eugene Barardi, 109-26-83; and Mrs. Robert Avery, 112-29-83.

Fencers Plan To Re-Organize

KINGSTON — Member clubs of the Hudson-Berkshire Division of the Amateur Fencers League of America met here recently to discuss reorganization of the division.

Represented were clubs from New York and Massachusetts, with David W. Storer, president of the Dutchess Fencers Club (Poughkeepsie) serving as chairman. The reps voted to elect divisional chairman, vice chairman, secretary, treasurer and bouts committee chairman.

Meetings have been scheduled on July 11 and Sept. 19 at places to be designated later.

Clubs represented at the Kingston meeting included Albany State Fencing Club, Berkshire Community College (Mass.), Dutchess Fencers Club, Poughkeepsie; Kingston Fencers Club, Rensselaer Fencing Club and Tri-Cities Fencing Club of Schenectady. These clubs represented four of the five major areas of the division: Albany, Kingston, Pittsfield (Mass.) and Poughkeepsie. New Paltz was unable to attend.

The Hudson-Berkshire Division of the AFLA includes the New York State counties of Ulster, Albany, Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, Orange, Putnam, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Schenectady; and Berkshire in Massachusetts.

George T. Gallagher, president of the Kingston Fencing Club, hosted the local meeting. Persons interested in joining the Kingston club are asked to contact Gallagher at 620 Plainfield Street, Kingston.

Woodstock Independent Party Nominates, Discusses Platform

WOODSTOCK — About 200 members of the Woodstock Independent Party met recently in Town Hall to nominate candidates for town office and discuss platform revisions. Geddy Sviekauskas served as chairman. Candidates will be named at a later date.

The following persons were nominated.

For town supervisor: Milton (Mutzy) Axel, a local builder; Tobe Carey, filmmaker, a founder and teacher at the Woodstock Free School and member of L.I.F.E., and Billy Faier, designer and builder of light boxes, folk singer, and local merchant.

For a four-year term as Town Justice:

Joshua Koplovitz, attorney with the firm of Wapner, Koplovitz and Fabricant, director of Riverby, Inc. and member of the board of The Place.

For a two-year term as Town Justice:

Phil Havey, gardener, student at Ulster County Community College, member of the board of The Place and member of Family; and Martin Henderson, Woodstock attorney and member of the board of Performing Arts of Woodstock.

For Town Councilman:

John Gardner, chief engineer for the Bearsville Sound Studios, member of the board of Family and co-director of the Woodstock Bail Fund; Aileen Cramer, member of the Woodstock Artists Association, the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, the board of the Maverick Concerts and a founder of The Circle in the Square theatre group; Joanne Murdock, who is associated with the Ulster County Community Action Program, Woodstock Headstart, and employed at the Grand Union Market and Gail Varsi, coordinator of Family.

For Town Clerk:

Marjorie Harder, the current town clerk, Dean Schambach was also nominated for town clerk but declined.

No one was nominated for the position of superintendent of highways. Nominations remain open for this and all other positions until the membership votes on candidates.

The WIP membership tentatively approved 13 of 14 planks of the revised platform.

This includes a day care center, open Town Board meetings, an ecology program, opening Big Deep swimming area, upgrading the public schools and opening them to parental participation, support of the Woodstock Medical Clinic now operating in the Family building, a communications center at Family.

Also, an employment and housing information center, reevaluation of town ordinances, support for private self-help organizations, the immediate return of all U.S. troops from abroad, the elimination of all speed drugs and heroin from the Town of Woodstock, and urging the legalization of cannabis (marijuana) nationally.

A plank on police reform was tabled for further study and revision.

Dean Schambach, voter registration chairman, urges all residents who have not registered to do so at the Board of Elections at the County Office Building, 240 Fair Street, Kingston. For information on registration, phone Board of Elections.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

BIGGER LOVE: (Q.) I am afraid I am going crazy. I love this boy so much. My mother wouldn't let me go with him because his background and religion are different. But I went, anyway.

When she thought I was out with my girl friends, I was out with him and his friends. We lived a lot of life togteher.

For a long time, while I was with him, he smoked only grass, and stayed off the hard stuff. But two weeks ago he broke up with me. He told me he was back on the needle. I wasn't there one wild weekend, and he started all over again.

Please don't ask me to forget him, or turn him in. I know it was love, and it was mutual. If he doesn't change he will be dead in five years. I don't want him dead.—Frantic in Cleveland.

Your friend has told you clearly that there is something in his life bigger than you are. You recognize that fact.

You must recognize that you cannot watch him every minute of his life, as a mother watches a new baby, and that if you could he would grow to hate you.

Let him go. If he is to conquer his habit he must get more competent help than yours, and he must do it because HE—not you—wants to.

I am sorry, but to save yourself you must let him go.

CRYING TIME: (Q.) When I stay at my best friend's house and it comes time to leave I cry. She is my very best friend and she means a lot to me. But how can I keep from crying?—A True Friend in Chicago .

(A.) Do not fret about your tears so long as they are brief and do not hang on. A time of parting is a time of emotion, and tears are a sign of emotion. As you grow older they will probably decrease or disappear.

Variety Shows on the Limb

NEW YORK (AP — The variety show, network television's single most popular form during the 1970-71 season, goes on the endangered species list in the 1971-72 season.

Out of about 15 programs in the category during the past fall and winter, only four have survived for another year.

One theory is that big, brassy variety shows, costing $200,000 or more per program, are victims of the economic pinch because they are good for only one or two repeat broadcasts. There are those—largely older viewers—who believe that variety has been guitared to death: all those long-haired guys in suede jackets and fringe strummin' and preachin' about peace and love. Others insist that there have been so many hours of comedy with music or music with comedy that one show looked pretty much like the next one, particularly since the guest stars were making a circuit around them.

Carol Burnett, Glen Campbell, Dean Martin and Flip Wilson have escaped the wholesale axing, but the casualty list is long, ranging from Ed Sullivan and Lawrence Welk to Johnny Cash, Tom Jones and Andy Williams.

Veteran viewers, accustomed if not reconciled to drastic action, have learned to take these upheavals in stride. Some seasons after a glut of situation comedies, they start dropping like flies. Then Westerns suddenly went out of style. After a rest, they always come back.

Meanwhile, there is a whole summer to get through, and variety shows are the broadcasting equivalent of the publishing business's hammock reading—light, hot weather diversion.

Before long there will be NBC's "Make Your Own Kind of Music," CBS's "Newcomers" and "Sonny and Cher Show," and ABC's "Val Doonican Show." Mel Torme's "It Was a Very Good Year" has already made its ABC debut.

Des O'Connor returned to NBC Wednesday night, once again the summer substitute for "Music Hall." It was an auspicious occasion since Jack Benny, in good form, was the guest star.

The London-made program with its British star is pleasantly low key and easy to take. O'Connor functions agreeably as host and straight man, frequently breaking into song.

Connie Stevens is to be a regular on each of the 14 programs, presumably to give it a valid American aspect. She handled a couple of songs and one dance number very well.

The music is the old-fashioned kind—with a tune. The jokes are basic and often very old or very bad, but carried off with such good humor it is hard to groan too loud.

It is a shooting program, custom-tailored to hammock viewing.

"Duck soup," chortled B. "This play was old when I first used it R. F. Foster in 1920." South had won the club lead with the ace and lost the trump finesse to B at trick two.

B followed up his remark by leading the deuce of spades. West's nine forced out one of dummy's honors. Later on, when West gained the lead with a club, he was able to give B two spade tricks.

B's play was one that any really good player might have made. South was marked with both the ace and king of diamonds for his bids and, if he also held the jack of spades, there would be no defense possible.

Z, who had arrived too late to play, remarked to B, "If I had been declarer, I would have played the nine of clubs, not the ace, on the first trick. Your partner would have read your four-spot as a come-on and probably continued the suit. Whereupon, I would have romped home with my contract."

"I guess I would have done just that," said West. "I wonder what A would have done at trick two if he had been defending with B."

"A would probably have continued clubs, just as you would have."

You won't find the play Z suggested in any of the old columns. The reason Z is so tough is because he keeps finding new tricks to add to the ones he learned when he played auction.

Saigon Marines in New Drive

SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of South Vietnamese marines are making a new drive in the northwest corner of the country 15 to 20 miles below the demilitarized zone, where a North Vietnamese buildup is reported.

The drive began last Sunday but was not announced until today for security reasons. The Saigon command did not disclose how many marines are taking part, but a spokesman said several 500-man battalions are fanning out through the rolling foothills and elephant grass.

The only significant contact reported occurred Wednesday afternoon when North Vietnamese forces slammed about 500 mortar rounds into one of the battalions and engaged some of the Saigon troops in light contact.

Field reports said six marines were killed and 41 were wounded in the action nine miles northeast of Khe Sanh. Nine of the enemy were reported killed.

The purpose of the drive is to disrupt North Vietnamese supply lines and infiltration corridors and reduce Hanoi's capabilities for mounting an offensive during the dry season now prevailing in the northern quarter of South Vietnam.

A LONELY MEAL — A GI eats a solitary meal from his mess kit at a fire support base in South Vietnam. (UPI RADIOPHOTO BY DON SHARPE).

Fifty miles to the south, South Vietnamese infantrymen uncovered a stockpile of 600 mortar rounds during a drive on the edges of the A Shau valley, an important North Vietnamese supply transshipment point.

In Paris, North Vietnam and the Viet Cong hardened their language at the Vietnam peace talks today and said a quick deadline for total U.S. troop withdrawal and overthrow of the Saigon government were inseparable and crucial conditions for peace.

Brushing aside apparent signs of possible flexibility in the Communist negotiating position in recent weeks, both Hanoi's Xuan Thuy and the Viet Cong's Madame Nguyen Thi Binh indicated they are not ready to negotiate unless the United States meets these two conditions.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian command reported that its forces overran North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers entrenched in bunkers around a pagoda 10 miles northeast of the Cambodian capital.

Cambodian troops trained by the U.S. Special Forces in Vietnam have been battling the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong for the past week for control of the high ground east of Phnom Penh before most of the region is flooded by monsoon rains. The region is the key to Phnom Penh's eastern defenses and an important way station on the enemy supply route from the western branch of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Thirteen North Vietnamese prisoners of war were flown to Da Nang in a U.S. Air Force transport and put aboard the American troopship Upshur to begin their journey home. One of the 13 was on a litter.

The prisoners are scheduled to be transferred to the North Vietnamese Friday just off the demilitarized zone. The South Vietnamese government offered to let 660 sick or wounded POW's go North but only 13 volunteered to go.

Meanwhile, the UPI reported that Communist troops killed 48 Americans and wounded 229 others last week, pushing the U. S. battlefield death toll for 1971 to 1,023, military spokesmen said today.

The spokesmen said that American troop withdrawals, coupled with Vietnamization of the ground war, had caused a sharp casualty drop from the first five months of 1970, when 2,446 U.S. troops were killed.

Last week's death toll was the highest reported by the U.S. command since the last week in April. Spokesmen said a number of the 48 were "delayed reports" from a Communist rocket attack on a U.S. outpost May 21, in which 29 Americans were killed.

Since the first U.S. soldier was killed Dec. 22, 1961, there have been 45,231 American war deaths, spokesmen said. Another 299,663 U.S. troops have been wounded in Indochina since the beginning of 1961, they said.

Another 16 Americans died of "non-hostile" causes last week, spokesmen reported, boosting the war total in that category to 9,562. 'Non-hostile deaths" include traffic accidents, drownings, drug overdoses and the like.

The U.S. command said that last week marked the 48th week in a row during which American war deaths have been below 100.

May Limit Debate on Draft Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders are moving toward possible action to limit debate on the draft extension bill unless voluntary time limitations can be worked out on all pending amendments.

Leadership sources report a petition calling for a talk curb is being circulated and could be filed Friday following votes on ending the draft and limiting its extension to one year.

If the petition is filed, the Senate will vote next Tuesday on limiting debate on the remainder of the bill, including amendments yet to be considered.

These include the McGovern-Hatfield amendment to cut off all funds for U.S. operations in Indochina Dec. 31, and a variety of proposals dealing with the draft law itself.

Both sides agree privately a first effort to get the two-thirds needed for a debate limitation probably would fail, but a second bid later in the week might succeed.

Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., sponsor of the volunteer-force proposal due for the first vote Friday, said during debate Wednesday he has 10 other amendments ready in the likely event that one fails.

"If it takes until December to consider the amendments," Hatfield said, "I am ready to fight the battle until December."

Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, who has promised to filibuster to prevent passage of the draft bill by the June 30 expiration of the present act, said he is willing to agree to a reasonable time limitation on debate but none has been offered.

An aide to Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., co-sponsor of the Vietnam cutoff, said McGovern-Hatfield forces have told the leadership they would agree to about one week's debate on their amendment.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, however, said he thinks the debate could be even shorter since the measure was discussed last year before the Senate rejected it 55 to 39. Supporters say they didn't have enough time for proper debate last year.

Explosion Precedes NATO Parley

LISBON (AP) — Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization met today in Lisbon's Ajuda palace with the Soviet offer to negotiate troop reductions in Europe at the head of their agenda.

Portuguese Premier Marcello Caetano opened the ministers' semiannual meeting, being held in Portugal for the first time. Less than seven hours before the two-day meeting began, an explosion tore a big hole in front of the central post office several miles from the palace. The blast knocked out telegraph and telephone communication between Portugal and the outside world for more than five hours.

The explosion was believed to be the work of an urban guerrilla organization opposed to the war against insurgents in Portugal's African colonies.

With demands growing in the United States for withdrawal of American troops from Europe, Secretary of State William P. Rogers was reported planning to press the allies to agree on early negotiations with the Russians in search of a program of balanaced troop reductions by the NATO and Warsaw Pact forces.

As a first step, the Nixon administration was reported proposing that NATO hold a special conference to work out proposals to present to the Russians.

Public opinion in most West European countries is strongly in favor of such negotiations with the Russians. But the West Germans are opposed to any such agreement with the Soviets unless it is made contingent on new arrangements easing Communist pressure on West Berlin and access to that Communist-surrounded city.

Rogers and the British, French and West German foreign ministers met for dinner Wednesday night, as they do on the eve of each NATO meeting, to discuss the German problem. And the ministers agreed that a Berlin settlement must precede the other and more sweeping negotiations for which the Russians have been pushing, an all-European conference to set up a continental security system.
